Impeachment Evidence Draws Mixed Reaction

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House lawyer James D. St. Clair says the House Judiciary Committee's impeachment case against President Nixon does not amount to much so far, but some committee members disagree.

"Very few prosecutors ever have this kind of evidence available," said Rep. Charles Rangel, D-N.Y., a former federal prosecutor, after the committee wound up the preliminary presentation of Watergate evidence Wednesday.

The committee will move next week into new areas in its inquiry, and will vote today on opening some of next week's hearings to the public. It also will decide on a response to Nixon's refusal to give it any more Watergate evidence.

Both Democrats and Republicans, in separate party caucuses earlier this week, decided to support a request by the panel's chief counsel for approval of a new subpoena at the meeting today.

St. Clair, who has been committed to attend the committee's closed sessions as an observer, said if the impeachment inquiry was an ordinary trial he would be tempted to rest his defense now.

"Nothing substantial has been presented," he told newsmen. He also said he thought the committee should call Watergate witnesses and clear up any remaining questions on the cover-

New Plan Sought For Irish

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Northern Ireland's British administrator held crisis talks with Ulster's political leaders today after a night of violence in the predominantly Roman Catholic city of Londonderry. The army said a band of about 300, many armed with pick handles and garden shears, attacked troops during the night. Soldiers fought back with rubber bullets and antiriot gas.

Seven sniper attacks, without casualties, also were reported.

Merlyn Rees, Britain's minister for Northern Ireland, met with Brian Faulkner, Protestant head of the toppled provincial coalition government, hoping to salvage something of the collapsed power-sharing experiment between Protestants and Catholics.

Rees said he met today headline Protestant leaders Rev. Ian Paisley, Harry West and William Craig.

Meantime, commercial life of the British province moved toward normal as Protestant workers, satisfied that their 15-day general strike had reversed British efforts to bring minority Catholics into the Ulster government, returned to their jobs.

Pact Receives Mixed Greeting

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Nixon, Western European leaders and young Israelis welcomed the Israel-Syria disengagement agreement. But the Soviet Union was cautious, Syria and most other Arab countries were silent and some older Israelis were skeptical whether the pact will succeed.

President Nixon said the agreement was "obviously a major diplomatic achievement and Secretary Kissinger deserves enormous credit for the work that he has done."

He said in a televised speech that as a result of the pact, "the prospects for reaching agreement on a permanent basis, I think now, are better than they have been at any time over the past 25 years."

A British Foreign Office spokesman said, "We congratulate the governments concerned in this achievement. We salute Dr. Kissinger, whose unremitting efforts have done so much to bring it about."

The West German foreign minister, Hans-Dieter Genscher, said the agreement reached by the German-born Kissinger is "a good sign for progress at the Geneva peace conference on the Middle East."

Most Arab countries said little about the accord, and Syrian broadcasts only quoted President Nixon's announcement that a settlement had been reached. There was no official Syrian confirmation of the pact, and some citizens doubted it was settled.

A highly placed source in Damascus said Syria might not make an announcement until Friday, when the agreement is to be signed in Geneva. Palestinian guerrilla sources were not commenting, apparently waiting for Syria to take the lead.

In Egypt, however, news of the settlement was flashed on Cairo radio. Particular attention was paid to President Nixon's statement that the prospects for a lasting peace now are better than ever.

BCI Keeps Busy With More Cases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William J. Brown says Ohio's Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation handled nearly 550 more cases in the first four months of 1974 than it did during the same period a year ago.

Brown said the crime lab took care of 4,702 cases in the four months, the majority of them, 2,644, dealing with drugs.

and some did not hesitate Wednesday to say where they think matters stood. Rangel said he was convinced on the basis of the White House-edited transcripts that Nixon committed impeachable offenses.

Reaction to the evidence presented so far generally followed party lines.

"I think a slight case has been made, but not substantial enough to support impeachment," said Rep. Henry Smith III, R-N.Y.

"They haven't shown me anything yet to make me think the President is guilty of anything," said Rep. Carlos Moorhead, R-Calif.

But Rep. William Hungate, D-Mo., said he thinks the case was "very

Election Law Changes Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Legislation making sweeping changes in Ohio election laws, including moving the primary date from May to June, was approved by the Senate Wednesday. Sponsors called it a practical approach to election reform, while one of the Democrats who tried unsuccessfully to amend the bill from the floor said it was "election reform on a partial basis."

The measure, passed 30-0 and sent back to the House, was one of three major proposals passed by the upper chamber during a long afternoon floor session.

It approved 27-4 a bill making kidnapping a capital offense if the victim is harmed and passed 23-8 a measure lifting the state's sovereign immunity from lawsuits.

The election reform bill was a combination of two Housepassed bills and a little extra thrown in by the Senate Elections Committee.

Republicans who control the Senate shot down, all by 17-15 votes, Democratic amendments that would have moved the primary to September, provide door-to-door registration and eliminate a presumption from Ohio election law that a married woman changes her name.

Sen. Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, said rejection of the amendments meant that Ohio would not be a leader in election reform. He predicted courts would dictate other changes.

The bill would keep the polls open an additional hour to 7:30 p.m.; allow 17 year olds who will be 18 by general election time to vote in a primary, and change the candidacy filing date from 90 to 75 days before an election.

Sen. Paul Matia, R-25 Westlake, who carried the bill on the floor said it would shorten a political campaign by 45 days. Ocasek, who said the average citizen grows tired of campaigns within 30 days, argued the time wasn't cut enough.

The kidnapping bill, offered by Sen. Ronald M. Mottl, D-24 Parma, now goes to the House. Mottl said a recent rush of kidnappings brought it about. Under existing law, the death penalty can be imposed only if a kidnapping results in murder. Otherwise, a kidnapping carries a seven-to-25 year prison sentence.

Another provision in the bill would make it illegal for anybody to receive gifts or property as the result of a kidnapping.

Mottl said the provision, if it had been in California law, would have made it illegal for persons to receive food stuffs distributed as ransom for Patricia Hearst, the kidnapped newspaper heiress who has since reportedly joined her abductors.

They could be fined $1,000 and sentenced to six months.

"How do you arrest a million people?" asked Sen. Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown.

Mottl said he thought the provision, like the bill, would be a deterrent to would-be kidnappers. "If they know they face death, they're going to think twice," he said.

The bill lifting the state's age-old immunity law must also go back to the House for concurrence in technical amendments by the Senate.

"It will bring the jurisprudence of Ohio out of the middle ages and put it into the 20th Century where it belongs," said Sen. Robert J. Corts, R-13 Elyria, who carried the bill on the floor.

The five-member Sundry Claims Board which now hears claims against the state — sometimes paid as a moral obligation — would be replaced by a Claims Court, with a judge appointed by the Ohio Supreme Court.

An opponent, Sen. Thomas A. Van Meter, R-19 Ashland, argued that a citizen "would get a better break before a five-member board than he would a judge."

The board is made up of representatives of the governor, auditor, attorney general and the finance chairmen of the two houses. It can pay claims of $1,000 or less but those over that amount must be approved by the full legislature. The board has been in existence since 1917.

Sens. Walter L. White, R-12 Lima, and Gene Slagle, D-26 Galion, said the bill could open all of the state's political subdivisions to lawsuits.

Corts disagreed, saying lawsuits could be filed only against the state.

In other action, the Senate approved 29-2 a bill creating separate juvenile and domestic relations divisions in Mahoning County Common Pleas Court.

Earlier, the Senate Ways and Means Committee recommended for passage a bill allowing voters in a regional transit district to vote increased property, sales or income taxes to finance mass transit.

Kissinger Leaves As Mideast Truce Agreement Comes

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger arrived here today en route home from his 33-day marathon peace mission, and a senior American official said the cease-fire agreement he mediated between Israel and Syria would take effect as soon as it is signed on Friday.

Before leaving Jerusalem, the American secretary of state told newsmen the pact may become "a turning point in the history of the Middle East."

The senior official, talking to newsmen as the Kissinger party flew here to report to President Anwar Sadat on the accord, said wounded prisoners of war would be exchanged within 24 hours of the signing in Geneva.

As part of the agreement to separate Israeli and Syrian forces in the Golan Heights, the official said, Israel would give up the Golan city of Quneitra and six or seven villages taken in the 1967 war, as well as land gained last October.

The U.S. official said Israel would retain possession of three strategic hills and all of its settlements, but will yield about "a field and a half" of cultivated land east of the disengagement line.

The text of the accord distributed to newsmen gives Syrian and Israeli negotiators until Wednesday to work out details of the troop separation in the Golan Heights.

Actual disengagement is to begin by next Thursday and completed by June 25. All of the remaining 73 Israeli and 408 Syrian, Moroccan and Iraqi prisoners are to be repatriated by Thursday.

Report Good Energy News; Gasoline, Fuel Supplies OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's help in negotiating the Israeli-Syrian troop disengagement virtually eliminates the possibility of another Arab oil embargo, a U.S. energy expert says.

"This agreement removes the major impediment to good relations between the United States and the Arabs," John Wilhelm, director of producer country affairs in the Federal Energy Office, said Wednesday.

Wilhelm's statement capped a day of good energy news for the country. The federal energy chief said electric utilities should have enough fuel to avoid power problems this summer, and it was reported that for the first time this year there are no gasoline shortages at the end of the month.

The diplomatic breakthrough in the Mideast, achieved after 32 days of mediation by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, came just three days before the Arabs were scheduled to meet and review their oil-export policy.

"I think with this impediment removed we can be reasonably assured that Arab oil production will increase, especially in Saudi Arabia," Wilhelm said.

He had made a recent visit to Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and Libya and reported Arab willingness to increase oil shipments, but said it hinged on U.S.-aided progress in the Arab-Israeli dispute.

Wilhelm said he could not guess now fast or how far Arab oil production might be increased.

Meanwhile, federal energy chief John C. Sawhill said the nation's electric utilities should have enough fuel oil to meet power needs this summer, provided the public and utilities continue to conserve energy.

Sawhill announced that 89 utilities have been allocated 41.9 million barrels of residual fuel oil for June.

If the supply remains at or above current levels, there should be no power shortages due to lack of fuel oil with the possible exception of the East Coast, Sawhill said.

And the American Automobile Association said Memorial Day weekend travel and end-of-the-month gasoline allocation shortage failed to cause any deterioration in the nation's gasoline supplies this week.

It was the first time this year that the AAA has reported no deterioration in gasoline supplies at the end of a month.

The average price of premium fuel remained stationary at 59 cents a gallon, but regular gas went up another cent—to 56 cents.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market posted a slight decline today, adding to its recent losses.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down .70 at 794.67, and losers outpaced gainers by about 3 to 2 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said investors' concern continued to focus on the Federal Reserve Board's stated intention to maintain a relatively restrictive credit policy in order to restrain inflation. That stance by the Fed appears to leave little chance for an early downturn in interest rates, brokers noted.

Polaroid, the most active NYSE issue, was down 4 1/4 at 38 1/2 on top of a 1 1/2 point plunge Wednesday.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index faded .41 to 81.00. The Amex' volume leader was Syntex, off 3 1/4 at 44 1/2. A 154,900 share block traded at 45.

The NYSE's noon composite index of all its listed common stocks was down .21 at 45.53.

Ohio EPA Approves Wastewater Cash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Federal grants of $366 million for 225 wastewater treatment projects were announced today by the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency.

The grants, based on severity of pollution, population affected, preservation of high quality waters and national priorities, will fund the construction of 45 sewage treatment plants and 42 sewer systems over the next two years.

Other grants will pay for initial planning for sewer systems or treatment plants or final blueprints before construction.

More than 1,000 project applications were ranked by the Ohio EPA before determining allocations, said Sheldon M. Edner, coordinator of the Division of Intergovernmental Administration of the Ohio EPA.

The largest grant, $21 million for construction costs, will go to the Cleveland Southerly sanitation service area in Northeast Ohio for a $180 million sewage treatment plant. Funds will be disbursed next month.

No. 1 on the priority list is a final blueprint before building a $55 million sewage treatment plant and sewer line in the Cleveland Westerly service area. The proposal will cost $4.5 million, 75 per cent paid by the federal government.

The sewer line will go along Cleveland Walworth Run.

Other major projects ranked high on the priority list include planning for a $79 million treatment plant at Columbus' Jackson Pike and $70 million treatment plant in Toledo; final blueprints for a $65 million sewer system for the Cleveland Southwest area of the Regional Sewer District, and first plans for a $60 million treatment plant-sewer system for the Youngstown area.

"More than 1,000 communities appear on the state's priority list, and we are sorry that it will be possible to fund only a fraction of the total this year," Ohio EPA Director Ira L. Whitman said.

"If the Nixon Administration had not impounded nearly half of the money originally allocated by Congress for the construction of wastewater treatment facilities, most Ohio communities would be within funding range," he said.

In the past, about 20 grants for treatment projects were issued annually by the Ohio Water Pollution Control Authority, the predecessor of the Ohio EPA. In 1973, 21 areas received money for construction of plants or sewer systems.

The agency initially submitted a list of priorities to the U. S. EPA in July 1973. It was rejected because it did not meet the federal regulations.

The current list has been approved through 1975 by the U. S. EPA which will eliminate the need to compile a new list next year, Whitman said.

British Ship Transits Suez Canal; 1st Since 1967 War

LAKE TIMSAH, Egypt (AP) — Steaming "carefully and with a bit of worry," a British naval command ship has become the first large ship to transit as much as half the war-blocked Suez Canal since 1967.

The 100-mile waterway, linking the Mediterranean Sea at Port Said with the Gulf of Suez and the Red Sea, and essentially east with west, still is a long way from commercial use.

Work on rebuilding the canal began after Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger negotiated a disengagement of Egyptian and Israeli forces along the waterway.

With raucous toots from its siren, HMS Abdiel docked at Ismailia on Lake Timsah Wednesday to set up shop as the command ship for a Royal Navy mine-hunting team clearing mines and other relics of war from the canal. It was closed after the six-day Arab-

Storms Hit Wide Areas Of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Thunderstorms rumbled along a line that snaked from the middle Atlantic Coast to southern Nevada today.

Heavy storm activity developed before dawn in the Ohio Valley and upper Plains, while rain, hail and a tornado lashed the Nebraska Panhandle near Sidney.

Thunderstorms also struck from southern Missouri into north central Kentucky, and showers and thundershowers dampened the mid-Atlantic Coast states, the upper Rockies and southwestern Texas.

Fog blanketed much of the Northeast and northern Ohio Valley during the night, and visibilities near zero were reported in some areas.

But skies were clear from California and Oregon through the central and southern Rockies and the Gulf Coast states.

Along the Gulf, temperatures were balmy, remaining in the 70s and 80s during the evening. Levels dipped into the 30s, however, in Upper Michigan and Maine.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 84 at Needles, Calif., to 33 at Loring Air Force Base, Maine.

No Inquest Set In SLA Deaths

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A spokesman for Los Angeles County Coroner Thomas Noguchi says no inquest is planned, despite a request for one, into the deaths of six Symbionese Liberation Army members killed in a shootout with police.

Dr. L.S. Wolfe had asked for an inquest into the death of his son, William, and the five other SLA members who died in a more than hour-long gunbattle with Los Angeles police almost two weeks ago.

Wolfe, of Emmaus, Pa., arrived here Wednesday to press his demand and to seek help from the American Civil Liberties Union in forcing the issue. The local ACLU, which has criticized the shootout, said it was considering Wolfe's request.

PPG Contributes $95 Million To Ohio Economy

More than $95 million was contributed to the Ohio economy during 1973 through PPG Industries' six production and technical operations in the state, the company has announced.

Wages and salaries paid to the 4,069 employees at these facilities last year totaled $55.3 million.

Purchases from more than 2,518 suppliers in the plant areas amounted to $20.7 million, while utility and transportation costs for the facilities totaled $19.4 million. In addition, PPG plants and the PPG Industries Foundation contributed more than $112,500 to health, education and social services in the Buckeye state.

Products manufactured at PPG facilities in Ohio include industrial and agricultural chemicals at Barborton; automotive and specialty tempered glass at Crestline; sheet and tempered glass at Mount Vernon; synthetic resins at Circleville; automotive coatings at Cleveland; and various industrial and automotive coatings at Delaware.

The Barborton chemical complex, which also includes PPG Chemical Division research facilities, was founded 75 years ago, while glass production at Mount Vernon began 67 years ago. The Cleveland automotive coatings plant was acquired by PPG in 1947.

Production began at the Crestline glass fabrication plant in 1959, at the Circleville resins plant in 1962, and at the Delaware coatings plant in 1965.

PPG is the nation's largest producer of flat glass and a leading manufacturer of chemicals, paints, fiber glass and other products. The firm has 43 manufacturing locations in the United States, 74 worldwide.

Police Probe 2 Larcenies

Circleville police are investigating two larceny reports.

Mrs. Norma Morgan, 127 Pontious Lane, said thieves took two fishing reels and a tackle box from the carport of her home Monday between 1 and 4:30 p.m.

She valued the items at $205. A radiator off a wrecked Mack truck was taken from outside the Columbus Trucking Co. building at 811 S. Pickaway St., according to Johnny Montieth, manager. It is valued at $40.

Cattle Situation Concerns Ag Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz says he is concerned about the possibility of an increase in the slaughter of beef cows and heifers because of current financial problems in the cattle business.

If that happens and fewer breeding cattle are available, Butz said Wednesday, consumers may be faced with tighter beef supplies and higher prices later on. Feedlot operators since last fall have been squeezed by high feed costs and relatively low market prices for cattle.

The effects are being felt all along the beef production pipeline, Butz said.

Butz made his remarks at a meeting called to brief consumer specialists from the food industry, including representatives of agribusiness firms, about USDA policies and thinking on the food situation.

As he has before, Butz said much of the current difficulty in the livestock sector stems from federal price curbs last year. As an example, he said hog

Drivers Not Yielding Cause Two Accidents

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies investigated three accidents resulting in two citations.

Irene M. Myers, 26, Route 1, South Bloomingville, was referred to her doctor for injuries received in a single-car accident 4:49 p.m. Wednesday on the Tarlton-Adelphi Road.

Ms. Myers, driving across a bridge, lost control of the vehicle going into a small creek.

Deputy James Deal investigated the accident.

Deputy Earl Kuhn cited William R. Pyle III, 24, Route 2, Waverly, for failure to yield the right of way while making a left turn, when he was involved in a two-car accident at the Route 22 exit to Route 23.

Pyle, missing the ramp entrance for Route 22 westbound traffic, attempted to make a left turn onto the eastbound entrance, when he was struck by an eastbound car, driven by Lindsay A. Howes Jr., 27, Route 4.

Charlotte F. Hopkins, 24, Chillicothe, was cited for failure to yield the right of way at an intersection, by Deputy Dan Dewey, when she was involved in a two-car accident 7:20 a.m. Thursday, on the Harrisburg-Fairfield Road.

Traveling east on the Harrisburg-Fairfield Road, Ms. Hopkins failed to stop for a stop sign at the intersection of the Circleville-Lockbourne Road when she was struck broadside by a car driven by Carl R. Hoffer, 32, Groveport.

Ms. Hopkins was treated and released at Berger Hospital for minor abrasions to the left arm and Hoffer for contusions to the left knee.

Items Taken From Wickes

Thieves took an undetermined amount of merchandise from the warehouse of the Wickes Building Inc., sometime between 8:30 p.m. Wednesday and 5:45 a.m. Thursday, investigated by Pickaway Sheriff's Deputy Billy Huffman.

Reported to authorities by Gary Bigham, Route 4, general foreman, he noted the thieves entered the warehouse through an unlocked window.

Missing from the building was a radio, calculator, field glasses, camera and clock.

Authorities are continuing the investigation.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market posted a slight decline today, adding to its recent losses.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down .70 at 794.67, and losers outpaced gainers by about 3 to 2 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said investors' concern continued to focus on the Federal Reserve Board's stated intention to maintain a relatively restrictive credit policy in order to restrain inflation. That stance by the Fed appears to leave little chance for an early downturn in interest rates, brokers noted.

Polaroid, the most active NYSE issue, was down 4 1/4 at 38 1/2 on top of a 12 1/2 point plunge Wednesday.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index faded .41 to 81.00. The Amex' volume leader was Syntex, off 3 1/2 at 44 1/2. A 154,900 share block traded at 45.

The NYSE's noon composite index of all its listed common stocks was down .21 at 45.53.

Ohio EPA Approves Wastewater Cash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Federal grants of $366 million for 225 wastewater treatment projects were announced today by the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency.

The grants, based on severity of pollution, population affected, preservation of high quality waters and national priorities, will fund the construction of 45 sewage treatment plants and 42 sewer systems over the next two years.

Other grants will pay for initial planning for sewer systems or treatment plants or final blueprints before construction.

More than 1,000 project applications were ranked by the Ohio EPA before determining allocations, said Sheldon M. Edner, coordinator of the Division of Intergovernmental Administration of the Ohio EPA.

The largest grant, $21 million for construction costs, will go to the Cleveland Southernly sanitation service area in Northeast Ohio for a $180 million sewage treatment plant. Funds will be disbursed next month.

No. 1 on the priority list is a final blueprint before building a $55 million sewage treatment plant and sewer line in the Cleveland Westernly service area. The proposal will cost $4.5 million, 75 per cent paid by the federal government.

The sewer line will go along Cleveland Walworth Run.

Other major projects ranked high on the priority list include planning for a $79 million treatment plant at Columbus' Jackson Pike and $70 million treatment plant in Toledo; final blueprints for a $65 million sewer system for the Cleveland Southwest area of the Regional Sewer District, and first plans for a $60 million treatment plant-sewer system for the Youngstown area.

"More than 1,000 communities appear on the state's priority list, and we are sorry that it will be possible to fund only a fraction of the total this year," Ohio EPA Director Ira L. Whitman said.

"If the Nixon Administration had not impounded nearly half of the money originally allocated by Congress for the construction of wastewater treatment facilities, most Ohio communities would be within funding range," he said.

In the past, about 20 grants for treatment projects were issued annually by the Ohio Water Pollution Control Authority, the predecessor of the Ohio EPA. In 1973, 21 areas received money for construction of plants or sewer systems.

The agency initially submitted a list of priorities to the U. S. EPA in July 1973. It was rejected because it did not meet the federal regulations.

The current list has been approved through 1975 by the U. S. EPA which will eliminate the need to compile a new list next year, Whitman said.

British Ship Transits Suez Canal; 1st Since 1967 War

LAKE TIMSAH, Egypt (AP) — Steaming "carefully and with a bit of worry," a British naval command ship has become the first large ship to transit as much as half the war-blocked Suez Canal since 1967.

The 100-mile waterway, linking the Mediterranean Sea at Port Said with the Gulf of Suez and the Red Sea, and essentially east with west, still is a long way from commercial use.

Work on rebuilding the canal began after Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger negotiated a disengagement of Egyptian and Israeli forces along the waterway.

With raucous toots from its siren, HMS Abdiel docked at Ismailia on Lake Timsah Wednesday to set up shop as the command ship for a Royal Navy mine-hunting team clearing mines and other relics of war from the canal. It was closed after the six-day Arab-

Israeli war in June, 1967.

"We crossed the waterway carefully and with a bit of worry," said Comdr. J.D.W. Husband, the 1,500-ton command support ship's skipper. The 50-mile voyage from Port Said took five hours. Under normal conditions it would have required three, officials said.

United States and British naval teams have spearheaded the operation that began in early April to clear the waterway.

Asked when the clearance operation will end, Husband replied that it might take a year at the present rate of progress. American minesweeping helicopters are to complete their work by early next week.

The canal's commercial importance will be diminished by the advent in the last few years of so-called super-tankers, which are too large to use it and still will have to sail around Africa on their journeys from the Middle Eastern oil fields to the West, principally Europe.

Its principal significance is likely to be military, giving the Soviet Mediterranean fleet rapid access to the Indian Ocean.

The United States has been sending ships into the Indian Ocean from its Pacific fleet in recent months, according to some sources in preparation for the reopening of the Suez.

The Abdiel arrived at Ismailia with pageantry reserved for special occasions. Her signalmen hoisted the Egyptian and British flags, and Husband was greeted by Egyptian Adm. Ahmed Fuad Hassan, head of the Anglo-American-Egyptian clearance operation.

List Ohio Airmen Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Air Force officers whose wives reside in Ohio have been reclassified by the Pentagon from missing to dead by hostile action in Southeast Asia.

The officers are:

Col. Charlie B. Davis Jr., husband of Virginia J. Davis, 2080 Prudence Drive, Dayton.

Col. Erich C. Engelhard, husband of Doris Engelhard, 335 Bowman Drive, Fairborn.

Lt. Col. Billie J. Williams, husband of Barbara D. Williams, 336 Ridgewood Drive, Fairborn.

Reclassification from missing to dead means surviving relatives no longer will receive the regular pay which would have been drawn by the men.

But widows of the men become eligible for death payments of up to $3,000, insurance and various fringe benefits, including monthly Veterans Administration payments.

The Barberton chemical complex, which also includes PPG Chemical Division research facilities, was founded 75 years ago, while glass production at Mount Vernon began 67 years ago. The Cleveland automotive coatings plant was acquired by PPG in 1947.

Production began at the Crestline glass fabrication plant in 1959, at the Circleville resins plant in 1962, and at the Delaware coatings plant in 1965.

PPG is the nation's largest producer of flat glass and a leading manufacturer of chemicals, paints, fiber glass and other products. The firm has 43 manufacturing locations in the United States, 74 worldwide.

Police Probe 2 Larcenies

Circleville police are investigating two larceny reports.

Mrs. Norma Morgan, 127 Pontious Lane, said thieves took two fishing reels and a tackle box from the carport of her home Monday between 1 and 4:30 p.m.

She valued the items at $205.

A radiator off a wrecked Mack truck was taken from outside the Columbus Trucking Co. building at 811 S. Pickaway St., according to Johnny Montieth, manager. It is valued at $40.

Cattle Situation Concerns Ag Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz says he is concerned about the possibility of an increase in the slaughter of beef cows and heifers because of current financial problems in the cattle business.

If that happens and fewer breeding cattle are available, Butz said Wednesday, consumers may be faced with tighter beef supplies and higher prices later on. Feedlot operators since last fall have been squeezed by high feed costs and relatively low market prices for cattle.

The effects are being felt all along the beef production pipeline, Butz said.

Butz made his remarks at a meeting called to brief consumer specialists from the food industry, including representatives of agribusiness firms, about USDA policies and thinking on the food situation.

As he has before, Butz said much of the current difficulty in the livestock sector stems from federal price curbs last year. As an example, he said hog producers a year ago indicated they would produce a six per cent larger pig crop in the last half of 1973 than they did a year earlier.

But government price curbs were a signal to producers that troubles lay ahead, he said. Consequently, many pregnant sows were sold for slaughter and, instead of a larger pig crop in the last half of 1973, production dropped one per cent from a year earlier.

Similar signals have been received by cattle producers, Butz said. Instead of expected larger placements of new cattle in feedlots last winter and fall, fewer animals were put on feed. That helped push retail beef prices to record heights last January and February, he said.

Butz said some consumer groups and politicians were guilty of demagoguery whenever they saw a chance to "stir up things" about food prices. He said many do not relate food on grocers' shelves with items farmers produce.

Recently, Butz said, "somebody in Congress" discovered a cow could have only one calf per year and that the normal gestation period between breeding a cow and delivery of a calf was nine months.

Consequently, Butz said, "a bill was prepared to cut the gestation period in half" and thus speed up beef production. "And I think if that bill had been introduced, it would have passed," he added.

Drivers Not Yielding Cause Two Accidents

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies investigated three accidents resulting in two citations.

Irene M. Myers, 26, Route 1, South Bloomingville, was referred to her doctor for injuries received in a single-car accident 4:49 p.m. Wednesday on the Tarlton-Adelphi Road.

Ms. Myers, driving across a bridge, lost control of the vehicle going into a small creek.

Deputy James Deal investigated the accident.

Deputy Earl Kuhn cited William R. Pyle III, 24, Route 2, Waverly, for failure to yield the right of way while making a left turn, when he was involved in a two-car accident at the Route 22 exit to Route 23.

Pyle, missing the ramp entrance for Route 22 westbound traffic, attempted to make a left turn onto the eastbound entrance, when he was struck by an eastbound car, driven by Lindsay A. Howes Jr., 27, Route 4.

Charlotte F. Hopkins, 24, Chillicothe, was cited for failure to yield the right of way at an intersection, by Deputy Dan Dewey, when she was involved in a two-car accident 7:20 a.m. Thursday, on the Harrisburg-Fairfield Road.

Traveling east on the Harrisburg-Fairfield Road, Ms. Hopkins failed to stop for a stop sign at the intersection of the Circleville-Lockbourne Road when she was struck broadside by a car driven by Carl R. Hoffer, 32, Groveport.

Ms. Hopkins was treated and released at Berger Hospital for minor abrasions to the left arm and Hoffer for contusions to the left knee.

Items Taken From Wickes

Thieves took an undetermined amount of merchandise from the warehouse of the Wickes Building Inc., sometime between 8:30 p.m. Wednesday and 5:45 a.m. Thursday, investigated by Pickaway Sheriff's Deputy Billy Huffman.

Reported to authorities by Gary Bigham, Route 4, general foreman, he noted the thieves entered the warehouse through an unlocked window.

Missing from the building was a radio, calculator, field glasses, camera and clock.

Authorities are continuing the investigation.

A Page Of Opinion

Financing Airports

A spokesman for the major international airlines recently suggested that airports should pass on the benefits of their improved financial position to the airlines. He implied that landing fees and rentals should be reduced.

Not likely, for airports have only begun to pay for themselves. Throughout the world, most of them are publicly owned, created by the investment of vast sums contributed by the taxpayers. Little of this capital has been recovered.

On the contrary, continuing investment has been required to serve the bigger and faster planes. It has been estimated that to relieve congestion at the major airports in the United States will cost more than $2 billion in the next five years.

Local enthusiasm for subsidizing the airlines is waning. They should be able to pay their own way from now on. The business is there and if anything is lacking it is efficient management.

Eisenhower Dollars Needed

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Congress has the power to save a fine young college with an illustrious old name: Eisenhower College, Seneca Falls, N. Y., student body 1,700.

The Congress can provide that a portion of the impending purchases of the newly redesigned Eisenhower "proof" dollars can be allocated to the 6-year-old institution of learning that has come upon ominously hard times. Eisenhower College is too young to have rich alumni or an endowment fund.

A "proof" dollar is a coin that is not minted to be exchanged at the supermarket for groceries or bet on the hard eight at a Las Vegas casino. It is minted essentially for coin collectors and the souvenir trade and, of course, for the benefit of the U.S. government. The Eisenhower "proof" buck, first struck in 1971, comes delivered in a jeweler's-type box and sells for $10. It contains a bit more silver than circulated dollar coins, and it makes a beautiful pocket piece, necklace adornment, money clip, lighter medallion, etc. The Treasury has sold about 10,000,000 of these cartwheels, which happens to amount to a great deal more money than we paid for Alaska.

The Eisenhower dollar now has a new look that will stimulate buyer interest. Its back has been changed from an image of an American eagle to a U.S. bicentennial theme. (So has the rarely-bartered Kennedy Half-dollar, one of the most hoarded coins in our history.)

Eisenhower College, a handsome complex of buildings in a superb setting, nearly went down the fiscal drain this year, only two years after graduating its first class. A relatively small loan from New York State will keep it functioning into next year. But then it will need the kind of continuing aid that could be provided by, say, ten per cent of the profits derived from the sales of the special coin that bears the late President's and Supreme Commander's manly profile.

After all, whose face, personality and performance sells that dollar coin for a sawbuck?

Trying to write some new blast against President Nixon every day, however or however not deserved, must be a tough assignment for reporters on the Nixon beat. It is something like covering the old Washington Senators baseball team. Believe me, that was something. Shirley Povich, Jack Keller, Francis Stann, Dick McCann, Robert Ruark, Buck O'Neill, Dick Hollander, Garrett Waters and the rest of us who daily had to report on the doings of that usually calamitous cause were constantly confronted by the task of coming up with one more way of reporting that the team had lost.

Our problems were greater than those of the Nixon Casandras. We couldn't attribute the team's 13-2 setback to "sources." The 13-2 result stood there starkly exposed by Arch McDonald in his radio play-by-play, ready to be mailed to American League headquarters in Chicago by the game's official scorer. (we were paid $20 to serve as an official scorer and, for most of us, it was like winning the Irish Sweepstakes.)

The guys on the anti-Nixon beat are called upon day-in-and-day-out to find new ways of saying that he is unfit for Presidential office, for example the recent revelation that he doesn't like ice cubes with holes in them, according to a source close to the White House pantry's icebox. Our task was simpler, in essence. The Senators made all their mistakes in public and broad daylight. But they, too, had an enemies list, a more alarming one than the President's. Heinie Manush, who weighed about 200, once went after 108-

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A number of my readers have expressed concern about diabetes. Confusion apparently exists in their minds about this condition.

To allay anxiety for those who have some family history of diabetes, it should be stated:

1) Diabetes is almost always a controllable disease.

2) Diabetes must be recognized if it is to be controlled.

These two concepts are fundamental to good health and longevity in people who may have diabetes.

It is estimated that more than one and a half million people in America have mild diabetes which is undetected because of the absence of symptoms.

Intensive educational campaigns are aimed at flushing out the hidden diabetic. When the unknown diabetic is converted into the known diabetic, diligent uninterrupted care by the physician can erase a potential threat to health and life.

With dietary control, insulin, and oral drugs, the diabetic can live a normal life, free of any incapacitation. The so-called "pre-diabetic" is another group that must be brought into medical focus before any overt symptoms of diabetes are present.

The unknown, the hidden, the camouflaged diabetic and the "pre-diabetic" can reveal their potential by a series of blood and urine studies.

Specialty groups, such as the Joslin Clinic in Boston, exist in many large hospitals all over the United States. Their highly refined tests make it possible to predict the possibility of diabetes. Studies of the blood vessels, the kidneys, the pancreas and the blood serum can uncover the pre-diabetic and the hidden diabetic.

If there is any history of diabetes in the immediate family it is wise to take advantage of simple diagnostic analyses that are available everywhere.

Many people live in the shadow of concern and fear that they eventually pound Dick McCann with a baseball bat. Joe Kuhel tried to slug Shirley Povich because I, not Shirley, had scored one of his misplays at first base an error. He figured Shirley was guilty through his association with me. Earl Whitehill punched Francis Stann for writing a nice piece about a rookie pitcher who was the veteran Earl's teammate. I made the team's list for writing, "Buddy Myer's eight-inning home run brought the Washington team's home run total up to within 19 of Lou Gehrig."

We had one great consolation about our job, as must those who must cover the last-place President and his embattled White House Team:

It was better than working for a living.

will develop this disease because it exists in some member of their family. The anxiety that is generated can be destructive to personal happiness.

Diabetes can be controlled if it is recognized early and treated intensively.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — There is very little comfort to be distilled from the latest report of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, which contains forecasts that instead might contribute to financial insecurity.

The rise in the cost of living should slow somewhat in the final quarter of the year, it states, but still will be at an unacceptable 7 per cent rate. Unemployment might rise from 5 per cent now to nearly 6 per cent then. But maybe even more significant than these numbers is the greater uncertainty with which economic advisers seem to assess the future. Continued failures have undermined assurance.

Herbert Stein, the chief economic adviser, had been talking about a 6 per cent inflation rate by the end of the year, but apparently he now goes along with the 7 per cent forecast. Once pragmatically optimistic, he sounds less so now.

The President himself referred to "signs of improvement," which hardly has the starch of those old pronouncements that seemed to say the future is ours. He talked of "a special danger" that inflation might escape restraints.

Slowly the realization seems to be descending on makers of economic policy that they do not get the same response to their actions as they did a decade ago. It may be only that the ailments are so extreme, but it might be more than that.

The fact is that the federal budget as an instrument of economic change is not the flexible instrument it once was. The President's authority over the budget is restricted more each year; his spending is done for him.

As more of the budget becomes precommitted to social and defense and income maintenance programs, the nation's ability to hold down federal spending is reduced. It cannot exert the same anti-inflation pressures.

Inflation control becomes less effective also as economies become more influenced by world events. U.S. food prices, for instance, have been influenced by a poor Soviet harvest and by attempts everywhere to raise living standards.

A more obvious example is the changing oil market, which affects so many other industries. It wasn't an increase in U.S. demand nearly so much as a changed attitude by supplier nations that led to price increases.

To a much greater extent than even a few years ago, therefore, prices are beyond the effective control of domestic governments. In that respect, economic advisers probably feel as inadequate, as helpless as any householder.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:

We would like to take a moment to thank the children in the Circleville Tiger Marching Band for putting on such a fine showing at Indianapolis on the 25th and 26th of May. The parade was a long one but our Band looked marvelous throughout the entire parade.

The bandsman were proud of their band and they showed it. The crowd was very large and very enthusiastic. The Tiger Band not only played good but they marched and did Fancy foot work as well. This the crowd was for and they showed it with their applause along the entire parade route.

The next day we loaded at 6:30 a.m. and went to the speedway for the parade of bands. There the Band once again showed that the Tiger Band is the best in the land. They marched the entire length of the track which is 2 1/2 miles but the worst part of it was that the track was slanted for racing. This made it very hard to march on; but they did a beautiful job.

This was our last trip with the band. I don't really know how many trips we made with the band but we enjoyed every one of them. We have a superior group of children and they are proud of the band. This enthusiasm sometimes gets a little loud but kids are kids and we would joke with them about the noise and they would quiet down. Wherever the Band went they put on a good showing and the people enjoyed watching them perform.

I know that next year the Band will be just as good and the Bandsmen will perform at another outstanding parade or festival somewhere and they will look as good as ever. Parents please get behind your children and go with them on the different trips. Go to the Band Booster meetings and make it the biggest ever. Show the children you are behind them one hundred per cent. Give them the encouragement and the enthusiasm they deserve.

They have a good thing going for them and it is up to the parents to see that it is carried out. You will never regret one minute of the time you spend with them. You will enjoy it as much as the band members. Join in and show them you really do care. The children need to know this. With your support and cooperation they can do everything.

I would like to thank Mr. Gary Dean, band director, Mrs. Rigo, assistant band director and Mrs. Woodward, drill team advisor for the long hours they spent with the band. Believe me, we the parents, appreciate your work, and surely we can't forget the very fine people of Circleville for your loyal support in helping the Band go to Indianapolis. They couldn't have done it without your help.

As I said before, this was our last trip but we shall not forget the most cherished memories we have had with our band and wherever the band goes the Dowlers will be there to cheer them on and to help them with our little Band-Aids Kit. We love them all and we will miss them but we have a lot of fond memories to look back on and we don't regret any one of them.

Lets keep the band great by supporting them not only with your money but by actions and deeds. Parents, show your children that you are just as proud of them as they are themselves. In this way our FUTURE ADULTS will be able to face all the problems of the future and not back away.

Good luck bandsmen in everything you go to do. May you always come away with top honors. We love you all and wish you the best of luck.

Most Sincerely

Dear Editor:

I was a member of the audience at the last Board of Education meeting, when Mr. Jacobs was rehired. I wish to stay neutral about this matter, but no longer can after reading Helen George's letter to the editor on May 28, 1974.

First I would like to take this time to show some respect to Mrs. Wylie for not "folding under" to the administration; as Ms. George wants? And also for her sticking up for her morals and not what you call "petty" and "ill founded" ideas.

Ms. George comments "there are teachers and employees in the school system who do not cooperate with Mr. Jacobs. These employees and teachers should seek other positions." I first would like to know just how she could use, if you mind the expression, such a red-neck or bigoted statement. As to my knowledge when a person can't say or express his or her feelings, as long as it is constitutional, you are no longer living in a democracy but under a dictatorship. Is this what you are suggesting our school system is or should be? When someone says something, you agree to it even though it is wrong or against your morals. I think when everyone does this there is no longer a reason to live, for you are just a puppet!

Also, all you hear are the administrators who praise Mr. Jacobs. But are there not just as many or not more who would speak against him but are afraid to do so for the fear of being unemployed? Another thing — how many dependable teachers retired or transferred because they were told if they didn't they would be dismissed?

Finally, I would like to compliment Mr. Jacobs on his financial accomplishments. But it is indeed a damn shame that we judge our public officials in terms of the "almighty dollar", rather than what he has done to make the best of God given human resources.

Toledo Edison Wins Suit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court ruled today that only Ohio's tax commissioner can make an assessment against a public utility. The ruling paves the way for the Toledo Edison Co. to get a rebate on $70,135 it paid in real property taxes in 1971.

The Lucas County auditor's office assessed the amount on a partially constructed office building. The Ohio Board of Tax Appeals upheld the assessment.

The company claimed that the assessment was illegal because it was made by the county auditor.

The Supreme Court agreed, saying although the tax commissioner can designate the auditor his agent to value a public utility, it is the commissioner who must finally make the assessment.

The court sent the case back to the Board of Tax Appeals with instructions for it to grant the company's application for return of the money.

Illegal Welfare Pay Halted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state auditor's office has stopped about $300 million in illegal welfare payments over the past three years, a Democratic candidate for the post declared Wednesday.

"And just since the beginning of this year, we have saved the federal government some $180,000 by canceling and—or terminating about 1,000 food stamp cards in Cuyahoga County," Deputy Auditor Thomas Ferguson said in a statement.

"I'm proud of the job our examiners are doing in the area of welfare auditing, particularly so because the previous auditor, a Republican, was partly responsible for the welfare mess my father, Joseph T. Ferguson, found when he took office in January 1971," Ferguson said.

Ferguson faces republican Roger Tracy in the November general election.

New York is named for the Duke of York and Albany, who received a patent to New Netherland from his brother Charles II and sent an expedition to capture it in 1664.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Long Nose, Flat Chest

DEAR ABBY: I am a 33-year-old married woman with three children. At school I was called "Pinocchio" because my nose was so long. I was also teased because I was flat-chested. This gave me a very bad inferiority complex.

Last summer I decided to see a plastic surgeon so I looked in the yellow pages and picked out a name I liked and made an appointment. He charged me $25 just to tell me he wanted $1,500 to do my nose, and $3000 for silicone implants, cashin advance! I don't have that much money now.

I was so desperate I wrote to President Nixon and asked if he knew of a plastic surgeon who would do it for less. I told him life wasn't worth living without those operations.

He forwarded my letter to the Mental Health Department, and they suggested I call "Suicide Prevention" if I felt the need to talk to somebody. Abby, I hate to go anywhere because I always see women with little noses and big bosoms and I feel like crawling into a hole.

Please, please help me.

A MISERABLE MESS
DEAR MISERABLE: You can't be as big a mess as you say because at least one man thought you were appealing enough to marry.

Start with your nose. Call your county medical society for the names of plastic surgeons who would let you pay on time. Also, try a university medical school.

Nobody has everything, dear. Write to Frederick's of Hollywood for their lingerie catalogue. Their padded bras are so realistic they could fool a nursing baby. And, good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I do volunteer work at my child's school three mornings a week, and I enjoy it. I do not gossip, I mind my own business, and I am not better acquainted with my child's teachers than any other parent.

I felt quite satisfied with myself until my husband asked me to find some other kind of volunteer work. He says he "knows" our child resents Mother "nosing around" school.

Our child is an average student with no problems, and I was of the opinion that he enjoyed seeing me in school. All the mothers I know do some volunteer work involving their children. (Scouting, Sunday School, etc.) I am at a loss to figure this out. Can you?

CONCERNED
DEAR CONCERNED: No. Ask your husband how he "knows" what he claims to know and if he doesn't come up with something convincing, just keep on doing what you're doing.

DEAR ABBY: A man in prison for murder wrote and asked you if murder was a forgivable sin. He said he could find no reference to it in the Bible. All he could find were references to "an eye for an eye."

Your reply, "There is no sin that will not be forgiven by sincere repentance," was beautiful. Perhaps it would be useful to further point out that three of the most admired persons in the Bible were also murderers—Moses, David and Paul. So surely if these men could rise to such heights after having committed such an act, it shows the way for anyone to do so.

Tips In Battling Inflation Given

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A vice president of Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. of New York propounds three ideas he believes would soften the blow of higher prices on low incomes.

Tilford Gaines of the New York bank called inflation a corrosive influence on the U.S. economy. It hurts low income families the most, he said. They are least able to protect themselves.

"In the past policies to correct inflation have hit hardest on that same group," Gaines said in an interview. "We don't have to have that kind of trade off."

Gaines proposed lifting the time limit on unemployment benefits. Ohio limits payments to 26 weeks for the unemployed.

Gaines asked, "Why limit it to a certain period of weeks?"

He also suggested development of supplemental unemployment benefits for all workers, not just those in the auto and steel industries.

Gaines said, "A young fellow out of work could be paid 25 per cent of his weekly salary. A fellow with 25 years experience would receive 75 per cent of his pay."

The third proposal involves public works projects. "Why not substantially beef up public employment programs?" he asked.

Gaines said, "People will start throwing the WPA and the CCC at you. But to hell with the darts. We have a lot of jobs that need doing, particularly in the environment."

"These are marginal type jobs that private industry can't do economically. We should grant far more money to the states and cities to do the jobs, like cleaning up streams."

Gaines added, "I prefer this rifle approach. We can pursue anti-inflation policies and minimize the destructive effects and the inequities."

He said he opposes what he called the general, shotgun approach now being used by the federal government.

"When the economy slips and unemployment edges up, the federal government cuts taxes and increases spending," he said. "Maybe 2 per cent of the population is affected, but they pass out solutions for 100 per cent."

Insurance License Ban Supported

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Association of Life Underwriters endorsed Wednesday a proposed ban on the issuance of life insurance licenses to banks, savings and loan institutions, finance companies and other such businesses.

Support for the prohibition proposed by the Ohio Department of Insurance came during the OAIU's annual meeting here.

"If the American competitive enterprise system is to be truly free and competitive, it must not place lenders in a position where they could coerce prospective borrowers into buying credit insurance at inflated prices," the association said in a statement.

Cheese Firm Owes City

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Fisher Cheese Co. of Lima got 12 years of municipal water and sewer service — $141,410 worth of it — but wasn't billed for it and didn't pay a cent, state Auditor Joseph Ferguson said today.

"Water and sewer service ... was furnished from April 18, 1958 to May 5, 1970 but was inadvertently not billed and had not been paid," the auditor said in a report.

The auditor said billings began after May 15, 1970, but still have not been paid.

The finding was against the cheese company and the landlord of its Lima division plant, Violet B. Selfridge, in favor of the city's utility department.

The auditor reported at the same time Lima Municipal Court Judge Roger D. Andrews was paid $11,033.64 contrary to state law. The judge got a pay raise during his term before such in-term salary hikes became legal, the auditor said.

Poll Shows Nixon Stand Unpopular

NEW YORK (AP) — Fiftysix per cent of Americans believe the House Judiciary Committee should recommend impeachment if President Nixon refuses to submit requested tapes and materials, according to a nationwide survey by pollster Louis Harris.

The poll taken in 1,555 households between May 4 and May 7 showed 33 per cent were opposed to such action and 11 per cent had no opinion.

It also said Nixon's general handling of the Watergate case drew an 82 per cent negative reaction and his refusal to turn over tapes sought by the committee drew a 72 per cent negative reaction.

Tips In Battling Inflation Given

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A vice president of Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. of New York propounds three ideas he believes would soften the blow of higher prices on low incomes.

Tilford Gaines of the New York bank called inflation a corrosive influence on the U.S. economy. It hurts low income families the most, he said. They are least able to protect themselves.

"In the past policies to correct inflation have hit hardest on that same group," Gaines said in an interview. "We don't have to have that kind of trade off."

Gaines proposed lifting the time limit on unemployment benefits. Ohio limits payments to 26 weeks for the unemployed.

Gaines asked, "Why limit it to a certain period of weeks?"

He also suggested development of supplemental unemployment benefits for all workers, not just those in the auto and steel industries.

Gaines said, "A young fellow out of work could be paid 25 per cent of his weekly salary. A fellow with 25 years experience would receive 75 per cent of his pay."

The third proposal involves public works projects. "Why not substantially beef up public employment programs?" he asked.

Gaines said, "People will start throwing the WPA and the CCC at you. But to hell with the darts. We have a lot of jobs that need doing, particularly in the environment."

"These are marginal type jobs that private industry can't do economically. We should grant far more money to the states and cities to do the jobs, like cleaning up streams."

Gaines added, "I prefer this rifle approach. We can pursue anti-inflation policies and minimize the destructive effects and the inequities."

He said he opposes what he called the general, shotgun approach now being used by the federal government.

"When the economy slips and unemployment edges up, the federal governments cuts taxes and increases spending," he said. "Maybe 2 per cent of the population is affected, but they pass out solutions for 100 per cent."

Insurance License Ban Supported

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Association of Life Underwriters endorsed Wednesday a proposed ban on the issuance of life insurance licenses to banks, savings and loan institutions, finance companies and other such businesses.

Support for the prohibition proposed by the Ohio Department of Insurance came during the OAIU's annual meeting here.

"If the American competitive enterprise system is to be truly free and competitive, it must not place leaders in a position where they could coerce prospective borrowers into buying credit insurance at inflated prices," the association said in a statement.

Cheese Firm Owes City

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Fisher Cheese Co. of Lima got 12 years of municipal water and sewer service — $141,410 worth of it — but wasn't billed for it and didn't pay a cent, state Auditor Joseph Ferguson said today.

"Water and sewer service ... was furnished from April 18, 1958 to May 5, 1970 but was inadvertently not billed and had not been paid," the auditor said in a report.

The auditor said billings began after May 15, 1970, but still have not been paid.

The finding was against the cheese company and the landlord of its Lima division plant, Violet B. Selfridge, in favor of the city's utility department. The auditor reported at the same time Lima Municipal Court Judge Roger D. Andrews was paid $11,033.64 contrary to state law. The judge got a pay raise during his term before such in-term salary hikes became legal, the auditor said.

Poll Shows Nixon Stand Unpopular

NEW YORK (AP)—Fifty-six per cent of Americans believe the House Judiciary Committee should recommend impeachment if President Nixon refuses to submit requested tapes and materials, according to a nationwide survey by pollster Louis Harris.

The poll taken in 1,555 households between May 4 and May 7 showed 33 per cent were opposed to such action and 11 per cent had no opinion.

It also said Nixon's general handling of the Watergate case drew an 82 per cent negative reaction and his refusal to turn over tapes sought by the committee drew a 72 per cent negative reaction.

New Light Bulbs Cut Costs, Energy

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The General Electric Co. has introduced a series of new lamps it says will save both energy and money.

But company spokesmen who made the announcement Wednesday said "Ultimately America will need more, not less light."

They also noted that since relatively little oil or natural gas is used to produce electricity, reductions in lighting won't go far toward easing the energy crunch.

According to the spokesmen, residential users cling to the least efficient type of light source, the incandescent bulb, although better types are available.

Homeowners apparently are unwilling to pay the higher initial cost of such systems, although the higher cost can be recovered through savings in electricity, they said.

One of the new lamps is an incandescent-type, 50-watt bulb being market-tested in the New England states as a replacement for standard frosted, 60-watt lamps. The new bulb is filled with krypton, a comparatively rare and costly gas that increases the retail cost of the bulb about 40 per cent.

But it saves about 15 per cent in electricity while sacrificing only about 6 per cent of the light output. Savings in areas of high electrical costs can be more than enough to pay for the lamp over its life, the GE representatives said.

Other new lamps offered include a 40-watt fluorescent lamp the inside of which is coated with an invisible conductor that eliminates the need for a metal fixture.

The metal fixture aids in starting a fluorescent lamp, a function served more effectively by the conductive coating in the new lamp, the firm said.

The new lamp saves 14 watts in a typical two-lamp fixture, or about $7.50 over its life at the national average rate for electricity of 2.7 cents per kilowatt hour, the spokesman said.

For municipal and industrial use, GE has produced improved versions of a high-efficiency, high-pressure, sodium-filled lamp first introduced in 1965.

An earlier, 250-watt sodium lamp has been improved to produce 17 per cent more light at a 13 per cent cut in operational and installation costs, GE said.

A new, 1,000-watt sodium lamp provides 14 per cent more light and a 50 per cent longer life than older versions, GE said. Its primary use is for street lighting in high-traffic areas and for outdoor athletics.

A completely-new, 100-watt version of the lamp is designed for residential streets, warehouses, loading docks, walkways and stairwells.

GE has also introduced a 150-watt sodium lamp described as interchangeable with 175-watt mercury vapor lamps, without additional capital investment in about half of the existing mercury systems.

It also provides a 25 to 50 per cent more light and 14 per cent savings in power compared with the mercury lamp, GE said.

An earlier, 250-watt sodium lamp has been improved to produce 17 per cent more light at a 13 per cent cut in operational and installation costs, GE said.

A new, 1,000-watt sodium lamp provides 14 per cent more light and a 50 per cent longer life than older versions, GE said. Its primary use is for street lighting in high-traffic areas and for outdoor athletics.

A completely new, 100-watt version of the lamp is designed for residential streets, warehouses, loading docks, walkways and stairwells.

GE has also introduced a 150-watt sodium lamp described as interchangeable with 175-watt mercury vapor lamps, without additional capital investment in about half of the existing mercury systems.

It also provides a 25 to 50 per cent more light and 14 per cent savings in power compared with the mercury lamp, GE said.

Open House Tour Slated At Elsea Mobile Village

ELSEA MOBILE VILLAGE

An open house tour will be held at Elsea Mobile Village 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

The modern mobile home community has approximately 200 homes and is about 85 per cent filled. The latest addition to the park was completed in January, 1972. One more phase of the park is being planned to begin construction in 1975 and will have 315 mobile home lots.

Also under construction by Elsea Inc., is an ultra modern shopping center on the frontage property and an apartment complex at the southern end of the park location.

The location of the mobile home community is on North Court Street just opposite the North Court Street Shopping Center. In addition to all of the park facilities being open to visitors for viewing, 12 residents of the park have agreed to open their homes for visitors.

These homes will be posted with a sign, "Tour Home" in the yards.

Robert S. Elsea, president of Elsea Inc. stated, "There are many people who really have no concept of how or what mobile living is all about. We of Elsea Inc. and the folks in the village wish to provide the opportunity to tour the park and visit with those who have chosen mobile home living."

Harold Anderson, chairman of the open house tour, suggested those who desire to visit obtain a tour guide booklet at the entrance near the Family Outdoor Center.

Anderson suggested particular attention be paid to the individuality of each home. Also open for viewing will be the Mobile Home Supply Center and Gift Gallery, along with the recreational facilities which include the swimming pool area, tennis court, and basketball court. Another area of interest is the family outdoor center which is open.

Directly behind the center will be on display a new Detroit Mobile Home that is steel bonded, the latest new concept in mobile housing construction.

Asa Elsea, manager of Elsea Mobile Village, emphasizes that everyone is welcome. "We are opening our hearts and homes to everyone. We are proud of our mobile home community and all the folks who live here. We believe it is truly a credit to the entire Circleville and Pickaway County.

Refreshments will be served in conjunction with the open house.

Landlord-Tenant Measure Passes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two major bills creating 37 new judgeships and giving Ohio its first landlord-tenant law have been approved by the House and sent to the Senate.

Time becomes a major question for both, however, with leaders of the two chambers trying to wrap up final business for adjournment within the next two or three weeks.

Sen. Paul E. Gillmor, R-2 Port Clinton, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said frankly his panel will not have time to consider the omnibus judges bill passed by the House Wednesday.

Instead, it will be assigned to the Senate Local Government & Urban Affairs Committee, headed by Sen. Robert J. Corts, R-13 Ellyria.

Corts is expected to begin hearings next week, but if senators seek to add more judges in their own districts—as House members did—the proceedings could bog down to cause the bill to be carried over until next year.

The bill won 69-21 House approval after one of its more controversial provisions—to abolish mayors' courts—was removed. It had failed in the House May 22 by a vote of 52-38, with a two-thirds majority of 66 needed.

Bills creating new courts must have a two-thirds majority of each house under the Ohio Constitution.

Pageant Committee Selected

The Selection Committee has been named for the Annual Maiden of Roses Pageant, 5:30 p.m., June 16, at the Columbus Park of Roses, according to George Selby, Chairman of Selections. The judges this year represent six of the seven counties covered by the contest.

Serving this year are:
Chairman: George H. Selby, Columbus;

Team 1 — William E. Porter, Columbus, President Elect North Columbus Civitan Club; William R. Good, Columbus, first vice president, North Columbus Civitan Club;

Team 2 — Mrs. Roy Hoffman, Columbus, wife of president of Allied Florist; Mrs. Walter J. Stephens, Grove City, wife of vice president of Allied Florist;

Team 3 — Ruth Bachtel, Delaware, Society Editor, Delaware Gazette; Rose Anna Coleman, Marysville, Director, The Marysville Journal Tribune;

Team 4 — Edgar Cochran, Etna, Former Chairman, Etna Fair Queen Contest; Cheryl Robinson Anderson, Columbus, Former member, Maiden of Roses Court;

Team 5 — John L. Sanford, London, Madison County Commissioner; Donald S. Kauffman, Lancaster, Fairfield County Commissioner.

There are 45 contestants, from 27 schools in six counties. The selected Maiden-of-Roses will receive up to $1000 as a scholarship from the Columbus Park of Roses Foundation, and the first runner-up receives a $400 scholarship from State Auto Mutual Insurance Company.

The girls are interviewed by each team of judges Saturday morning, June 15. Lunch is served, then the girls have a rehearsal and the judges are present. For the first time there will be a Saturday dance with the judges also present. At the dance two awards will be presented, one to the girls who has given the most service to her community and one for the volunteer service to her school.

A tentative selection of the top ten is made Saturday, subject to change on Sunday. The Pageant is at 5:30 p.m. Sunday and the Selection Committee will name the Maiden of Roses and her court of four.

Prior to the Pageant, at 4 p.m., the Columbus Youth Symphony will present a concert, also in the Park of Roses. All events are open to the public without charge.

In the case of rain both events will move to Whetstone High School, 4405 Scenic Drive, at Henderson Road.

Auditor Allots Gasoline Taxes

State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson's office distributed $4,664,000 in gasoline taxes in May to Ohio's counties and townships.

Deputy State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson said that each of the 1,320 townships received $1,200 for a township total of $1,584,000 and each of the 88 counties received $35,000 for a county total of $3,080,000.

A lack of funds this month precluded distributions to the state's 964 cities and villages but such funds will be distributed in June, Ferguson noted.

Gasoline excise tax receipts must be used for street and roadway purposes, Ferguson pointed out.

Distributions to the counties for their townships ranged from $4,800 to Cuyahoga to $32,400 to Ashtabula.

Sadat's Way Eased By New Accords

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The Syrian-Israeli military disengagement accord dramatically improves chances for Middle East stability. And so Syria's anxious ally, President Anwar Sadat of Egypt, can begin breathing a little easier.

But his relief must be diluted by an acute awareness of how fragile such an agreement can be.

Bringing Syria under the disengagement tent with Israel and Egypt not only was a breakthrough of incalculable importance; it was another minor miracle of the sort that is becoming a specialty of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger. Having produced this wonder, however, Kissinger now must apply his ledger-dominant to the even more impossible-looking job of turning truce into peace. Syria long has been the enfant terrible of the Arab world. Her political leaders are invariably under severe pressures generated by the highly emotional Palestine issue. When Kissinger set out to bring Syria into an agreement of any description with the arch-enemy, it seemed he had taken on a hopeless task.

Meantime, Egypt's President Sadat, eager to get his nation on the road to economic health, must have had many an uneasy moment. All alone in his military disengagement pact with Israel, he was out on a long limb and looking uncomfortable.

Had Syria continued to hold out for long, Sadat could have been subject to the same sort of difficulty that plagued him before the October war, when intellectuals demanded an end, one way or another, to the situation of "no war, no peace."

When Arab terrorists burst into the picture so bloodily at a critical moment in the Syria-Israel negotiations, it had seemed all Kissinger's patient labor would go down the drain.

Now the scene shifts to the Geneva conference, and if the Syria-Israel phase had looked tough, the Geneva one can be much tougher. Peace, in fact, is a long way off.

The terror situation still can threaten the fragile agreement, since there can hardly be a secure guarantee against acts by fanatical extremists.

For Israel, security is the name of the game. For Syria, it is "the legitimate rights of the Palestine people," a rhetorical demand that can mean many things, even up to dismantlement of the Israeli state. Some Israelis think the Syrians mean just that.

Syria will continue demanding back all the Golan Heights area it lost in 1967, but Israel will be far from eager to give up a security bird-in-hand for a promise in the bush.

Withdrawal from the Golan Heights could make Upper Galilee once again an easy target. Withdrawal from Mt. Hermon would deprive Israel of a clear view to Damascus, a warranty against surprise.

The Geneva phase will last a long time, but the outlook seems a lot more hopeful this month than it did last.

Man Charged With Improper Gun Handling

Sheriff's Deputy Billy Huffman arrested 25-year-old Charles W. Musselman, Columbus, for driving while intoxicated and improper handling of a firearm.

Huffman stopped Musselman on Route 23 south for the intoxication charge when he noticed the .22 Rohn 6MBH revolver on the front seat of the vehicle.

Musselman was transported to the Pickaway County Jail and is scheduled to appear in Municipal Court today.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two major bills creating 37 new judgeships and giving Ohio its first landlord-tenant law have been approved by the House and sent to the Senate.

Time becomes a major question for both, however, with leaders of the two chambers trying to wrap up final business for adjournment within the next two or three weeks.

Sen. Paul E. Gillmor, R-2 Port Clinton, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said frankly his panel will not have time to consider the omnibus judges bill passed by the House Wednesday.

Instead, it will be assigned to the Senate Local Government & Urban Affairs Committee, headed by Sen. Robert J. Corts, R-13 Elyria.

Corts is expected to begin hearings next week, but if senators seek to add more judges in their own districts—as House members did—the proceedings could bog down to cause the bill to be carried over until next year.

The bill won 69-21 House approval after one of its more controversial provisions—to abolish mayors' courts—was removed. It had failed in the House May 22 by a vote of 52-38, with a two-thirds majority of 66 needed.

Bills creating new courts must have a two-thirds majority of each house under the Ohio Constitution.

Pageant Committee Selected

The Selection Committee has been named for the Annual Maiden of Roses Pageant, 5:30 p.m., June 16, at the Columbus Park of Roses, according to George Selby, Chairman of Selections. The judges this year represent six of the seven counties covered by the contest.

Serving this year are:

Chairman: George H. Selby, Columbus;

Team 1 — William E. Porter, Columbus, President Elect North Columbus Civitan Club; William R. Good, Columbus, first vice president, North Columbus Civitan Club;

Team 2 — Mrs. Roy Hoffman, Columbus, wife of president of Allied Florist; Mrs. Walter J. Stephens, Grove City, wife of vice president of Allied Florist;

Team 3 — Ruth Bachtel, Delaware, Society Editor, Delaware Gazette; Rose Anna Coleman, Marysville, Director, The Marysville Journal Tribune;

Team 4 — Edgar Cochran, Etna, Former Chairman, Etna Fair Queen Contest; Cheryl Robinson Anderson, Columbus, Former member, Maiden of Roses Court;

Team 5 — John L. Sanford, London, Madison County Commissioner; Donald S. Kauffman, Lancaster, Fairfield County Commissioner.

There are 45 contestants, from 27 schools in six counties. The selected Maiden-of-Roses will receive up to $1000 as a scholarship from the Columbus Park of Roses Foundation, and the first runner-up receives a $400 scholarship from State Auto Mutual Insurance Company.

The girls are interviewed by each team of judges Saturday morning, June 15. Lunch is served, then the girls have a rehearsal and the judges are present. For the first time there will be a Saturday dance with the judges also present. At the dance two awards will be presented, one to the girls who has given the most service to her community and one for the volunteer service to her school.

A tentative selection of the top ten is made Saturday, subject to change on Sunday. The Pageant is at 5:30 p.m. Sunday and the Selection Committee will name the Maiden of Roses and her court of four.

Prior to the Pageant, at 4 p.m., the Columbus Youth Symphony will present a concert, also in the Park of Roses. All events are open to the public without charge.

In the case of rain both events will move to Whetstone High School, 4405 Scenic Drive, at Henderson Road.

Auditor Allots Gasoline Taxes

State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson's office distributed $4,664,000 in gasoline taxes in May to Ohio's counties and townships.

Deputy State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson said that each of the 1,320 townships received $1,200 for a township total of $1,584,000 and each of the 88 counties received $35,000 for a county total of $3,080,000.

A lack of funds this month precluded distributions to the state's 964 cities and villages but such funds will be distributed in June, Ferguson noted.

Gasoline excise tax receipts must be used for street and roadway purposes, Ferguson pointed out.

Distributions to the counties for their townships ranged from $4,800 to Cuyahoga to $32,400 to Ashtabula.

Sadat's Way Eased By New Accords

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Special Correspondent

The Syrian-Israeli military disengagement accord dramatically improves chances for Middle East stability. And so Syria's anxious ally, President Anwar Sadat of Egypt, can begin breathing a little easier.

But his relief must be diluted by an acute awareness of how fragile such an agreement can be.

Bringing Syria under the disengagement tent with Israel and Egypt not only was a breakthrough of incalculable importance; it was another minor miracle of the sort that is becoming a specialty of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger. Having produced this wonder, however, Kissinger now must apply his legged-demean to the even more impossible-looking job of turning truce into peace. Syria long has been the enfant terrible of the Arab world. Her political leaders are invariably under severe pressures generated by the highly emotional Palestine issue. When Kissinger set out to bring Syria into an agreement of any description with the arch-enemy, it seemed he had taken on a hopeless task.

Meantime, Egypt's President Sadat, eager to get his nation on the road to economic health, must have had many an uneasy moment. All alone in his military disengagement pact with Israel, he was out on a long limb and looking uncomfortable.

Had Syria continued to hold out for long, Sadat could have been subject to the same sort of difficulty that plagued him before the October war, when intellectuals demanded an end, one way or another, to the situation of "no

Huffman stopped Musselman on Route 23 south for the intoxication charge when he noticed the .22 Rohn 6MBH revolver on the front seat of the vehicle.

John Carlos Bows Out Of Track

NEW YORK (AP)—Yes, track fans, there will be another pro tour in 1975, and it will be run with Ben Jipcho but not John Carlos.

Jipcho, perhaps the world's leading distance runner, was enthusiastic in his praise of pro track after he climaxed the 1974 International Track Association season Wednesday night with a scintillating 3:56.6 clocking in the mile.

Carlos, on the other hand, was highly critical of the ITA after winning the 300-yard dash and finishing second in the 60.

"I am very thankful to the ITA for having brought pro track to the whole world," said Jipcho after running the fourth fastest indoor mile in history and the first sub-four minute performance on the pro tour this year. "I was thinking of leaving running until they came up with the money."

The slender but durable prison guard from Kenya was the leading money winner in his first year as a pro with earnings of $16,700. He won 18 of 20 races over one and two miles.

"This is my last race as a pro," snapped the angry Carlos after his triumph in the 300, the second of his two races. "The only people making money out of this are those in the ITA. I'm sick and tired of running for promoters. That's why I'm going to play football."

Short Gets Cash For 2 SD Rides

Forrest Short of Circleville drove Jerry MacPherson to a win in the seventh race at Scioto Downs Wednesday night and came back in the eighth race to finish third on Sugar Lang.

Jerry MacPherson, owned by Short and Harry L. Short of Aiken, S.C., toured the mile in 2:06 for a $7, $5.60, and $3.60 payoff.

It teamed with Hush A Bye for a $36.60 quinella.

Sugar Lang, owned by George A. Fissell, Circleville, finished third under Short in the eighth race to pay $3.

Softball Tilts Reset Sunday

Rained-out Pickaway County Softball Assn. games set Wednesday night have been rescheduled for Sunday at the Ted Lewis Park.

At diamond 1, Circleville Oil will play Giovanni's 2 at 1 p.m.; Circleville Oil will play Lucy's at 2:30 p.m.; and Merchants 2 will play Merchants 1 at 4 p.m.

At diamond 2, Spurlock Construction will play Webb & McGuire at 1 p.m.; Independent Merchants will play PPG at 2:30 p.m.; and Robert's will play Giovanni's 1 at 4 p.m.

Hobeau Farm's late-running Tunex is now 8 years old and getting ready for another campaign under trainer Allen Jenkins. Jockey John Ruane has won 15 races with the veteran gelding.

Prep Baseball Semifinals Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Lima Senior, Cincinnati Reading and Van Wert Lincolnview, all former state champions, will lead 12 schools into the 47th Ohio high school baseball semifinals Friday.

Lima Senior won the big school state championship in 1964, Cincinnati Reading the Class AA crown in 1957 and Lincolnview the 1962 Class A laurels.

All semifinals will be played Friday and the championship contests in all three classes Saturday at Ohio State University.

New champions are assured. The 1973 rulers, Class AAA Cincinnati Elder, Class AA St. Paris Graham and Portsmouth East in Class A, were eliminated earlier this season.

The Class A teams launch the tournament at 9:30 a.m. Friday. Lincolnview, 15-4, faces Middletown Fenwick, 27-3 while Carroll, 17-6, draws Ashtabula St. John, 13-5.

Big Red Machine Stops Mets, 3-2

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — "I think the Dodgers are watching us," said Cincinnati Manager George "Sparky" Anderson after the Reds spanked the New York Mets 3-2, sweeping their three-game series.

"We're playing good in all departments." The victory was Cincinnati's sixth straight, keeping Reds hopes alive for overtaking Los Angeles in the National League west.

Jon Matlack of the Mets and Don Gullett of Cincinnati put on an exhibition of lefthand pitching prowess, but neither figured in the outcome.

Tony Perez crashed a line drive home run into the second tier of seats in the 10th inning off Mets relief pitcher Harry Parker, 1-3, for the victory.

"It was a fast ball inside after he sneaked two curves by me for strikes," Perez said.

Cincinnati has collected three victories off Parker with home runs in the past two years, the previous one by Pete Rose in the 12th inning of the fourth game of the National League playoffs Oct. 4, 1973.

"It has been the pitch they have been getting me out with, but I've been working on it," Perez said.

He said batting coach Ted Kluszewski had spotted him waiting too long to swing at pitches.

Merv Rettenmund doubled Dave Concepcion in the second inning and Pete Rose, who had not been expected to play because of injuries, made it 2-0 with a double to score Gullett in the third.

cisco Giants shaded the Chicago Cubs 5-4.

Robertson, who hit 27 home runs in 1970 and 26 in 1971, apparently is back to taking choice cuts on the field and at the dinner table—after slumping to .193 and 12 homers in 1972 and .239 with 14 homers last season.

Dodgers 5, Cardinals 2

Ron Cey brought Los Angeles from behind with a three-run homer off Bob Gibson in the sixth inning and Bill Russell collected four hits, including an RBI single in the seventh. The Dodgers' Tommy John, 8-1, permitted seven hits before giving way to Mike Marshall in the seventh.

Reds 3, Mets 2

Tony Perez hit his ninth home run of the season with two-out in the 10th off reliever Harry Parker. It was the sixth win in a row for the Reds and the Mets' third straight loss.

Braves 1, Phillies 0

Pinch hitter Vic Correll, who had only two hits in 21 previous trips this season, singled home Ralph Garr from second base in the 11th inning against Steve Carlton.

Astros 5, Expos 3

Bob Watson delivered a tiebreaking two-run single with the bases loaded in the ninth inning after reliever Tom Walker walked Greg Gross and Cesar Cedeño with two out around a single by Roger Metzger. Gross tripled in the first two Houston runs and starting pitcher Claude Osteen singled home the third.

Giants 5, Cubs 4

The Giants scored four times in the first inning on Gary Thomasson's two-run double and Dave Rader's two-run single, but needed Bobby Bonds' homer in the seventh to beat Chicago.

Bonnie Scheible of Circleville took second place honors in the Women's 140 and under division of the recent Southeastern Ohio Area Heartfund Rolloff Bowling Tournament.

The tournament was held for 19 southeastern Ohio counties at the Mt. Pleasant Lanes in Lancaster.

The ABC and WIBC sanctioned event was held for the benefit of the Central Ohio Heart Chapter. First place winners took home $25 and second place winners were awarded $15.

Whitaker was 12-0 for the season.

Piranhas Issue Last Member Call

Coaches of the Circleville "Piranha" Swim Team are issuing their last call for new recruits for the coming summer competition swim season.

"We need some new swimmers in a bad way," said Coaches Jim Shea and Dick Penn, "if we are to be in a position to capture the Mt. Pleasant Swim League title this year."

New rules of the league, passed last April, allow for three swimmers to swim for points in all individual events instead of two, and for two relay teams to swim for points in relay events instead of one.

"These new rules are putting all teams in the league on the spot," the coaches said, "and we are no exception."

Shortages on the Circleville team are: 9 Girls age 8 and under, 3 boys age 8 and under, 3 girls age 9-10, 3 boys age 9-10, 4 girls age 11-12, 2 boys age 11-12, 7 boys age 13-14, 2 girls age 15-17, and 2 boys age 15-17.

Anyone desiring to join the swim team are requested to attend a special meeting with one or both of their parents Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the shelter house at the Circleville Swimming Pool area.

John Carlos Bows Out Of Track

NEW YORK (AP)—Yes, track fans, there will be another pro tour in 1975, and it will be run with Ben Jipcho but not John Carlos.

Jipcho, perhaps the world's leading distance runner, was enthusiastic in his praise of pro track after he clinaxed the 1974 International Track Association season Wednesday night with a scintillating 3:56.6 clocking in the mile.

Carlos, on the other hand, was highly critical of the ITA after winning the 300-yard dash and finishing second in the 60.

"I am very thankful to the ITA for having brought pro track to the whole world," said Jipcho after running the fourth fastest indoor mile in history and the first sub-four minute performance on the pro tour this year. "I was thinking of leaving running until they came up with the money."

The slender but durable prison guard from Kenya was the leading money winner in his first year as a pro with earnings of $16,700. He won 18 of 20 races over one and two miles.

"This is my last race as a pro," snapped the angry Carlos after his triumph in the 300, the second of his two races. "The only people making money out of this are those in the ITA. I'm sick and tired of running for promoters. That's why I'm going to play football."

Short Gets Cash For 2 SD Rides

Forrest Short of Circleville drove Jerry MacPherson to a win in the seventh race at Scioto Downs Wednesday night and came back in the eighth race to finish third on Sugar Lang.

Jerry MacPherson, owned by Short and Harry L. Short of Aiken, S.C., toured the mile in 2:06 for a $7, $5.60, and $3.60 payoff.

It teamed with Hush A Bye for a $36.60 quinella.

Sugar Lang, owned by George A. Fissell, Circleville, finished third under Short in the eighth race to pay $3.

Softball Tilts Reset Sunday

Rained-out Pickaway County Softball Assn. games set Wednesday night have been rescheduled for Sunday at the Ted Lewis Park.

At diamond 1, Circleville Oil will play Giovanni's 2 at 1 p.m.; Circleville Oil will play Lucy's at 2:30 p.m.; and Merchants 2 will play Merchants 1 at 4 p.m.

At diamond 2, Spurlock Construction will play Webb & McGuire at 1 p.m.; Independent Merchants will play PPG at 2:30 p.m.; and Robert's will play Giovanni's 1 at 4 p.m.

Hobeau Farm's late-running Tunex is now 8 years old and getting ready for another campaign under trainer Allen Jenkins. Jockey John Ruane has won 15 races with the veteran gelding.

Prep Baseball Semifinals Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Lima Senior, Cincinnati Reading and Van Wert Lincolnview, all former state champions, will lead 12 schools into the 47th Ohio high school baseball semifinals Friday.

Lima Senior won the big school state championship in 1964, Cincinnati Reading the Class AA crown in 1957 and Lincolnview the 1962 Class A laurels.

All semifinals will be played Friday and the championship contests in all three classes Saturday at Ohio State University.

New champions are assured. The 1973 rulers, Class AAA Cincinnati Elder, Class AA St. Paris Graham and Portsmouth East in Class A, were eliminated earlier this season.

The Class A teams launch the tournament at 9:30 a.m. Friday. Lincolnview, 15-4, faces Middletown Fenwick, 27-3 while Carroll, 17-6, draws Ashtabula St. John, 13-5.

In the Class AA semifinals at 4 p.m. Friday, Genoa, 19-5, tangles with Reading and Warsaw River View, 20-7, plays Wooster Triway, 20-4.

The Class AAA semifinals at 1 p.m. Friday send Lima Senior, 16-3, against Cincinnati Princeton, 28-12, and Toledo St. Francis, 16-8, against Wickliffe, 16-8.

The Class A title game will be played at 10 a.m. Saturday, followed by the Class AAA finale at 1 p.m. and the Class AA championship at 4 p.m.

Lima Senior, reaching the state tournament for the first time since 1964, rallied in the last inning for both regional victories to reach the final four.

The Spartans, who reached the semifinals five straight times in the early 1960s, have stolen 38 bases in their last seven games, including eight-for-eight thefts in the regional finals against Portsmouth.

Princeton is the first school to reach the state semifinals in football, basketball and baseball since football playoffs started two years ago.

The Vikings have a pair of left-handed senior aces, 11-0 Steve Nagel and 10-2 Jerry Yingling.

St. Francis, trying to become the first Toledo school to win a state baseball title, may be a year ahead of schedule. The Knights often use a lineup including six juniors, one sophomore, and two freshmen.

The Toledoans lost in the semifinals two years ago and junior left-handed pitcher Bob Simon, an outfielder in 1972, is the lone holdover from that squad.

Wickliffe's Blue Devils have reached the semifinals for the first time, mainly because of Tim Fende, an unorthodox right-hander.

Fende, 9-0 this season, warms up by tossing high flies to himself, shunning the traditional throwing to a catcher before a game.

Big Red Machine Stops Mets, 3-2

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — "I think the Dodgers are watching us," said Cincinnati Manager George "Sparky" Anderson after the Reds spanked the New York Mets 3-2, sweeping their three-game series.

"We're playing good in all departments." The victory was Cincinnati's sixth straight, keeping Reds hopes alive for overtaking Los Angeles in the National League west.

Jon Matlack of the Mets and Don Gullett of Cincinnati put on an exhibition of lefthand pitching prowess, but neither figured in the outcome.

Tony Perez crashed a line drive home run into the second tier of seats in the 10th inning off Mets relief pitcher Harry Parker, 1-3, for the victory.

"It was a fast ball inside after he sneaked two curves by me for strikes," Perez said.

Cincinnati has collected three victories off Parker with home runs in the past two years, the previous one by Pete Rose in the 12th inning of the fourth game of the National League playoffs Oct. 4, 1973.

"It has been the pitch they have been getting me out with, but I've been working on it," Perez said.

He said batting coach Ted Kluszewski had spotted him waiting too long to swing at pitches.

Merv Rettenmund doubled Dave Concepcion in the second inning and Pete Rose, who had not been expected to play because of injuries, made it 2-0 with a double to score Gullett in the third.

Pittsburgh Pirates Clobber Padres, 13-3

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
AP Sports Writer

Bob Robertson really knows how to hurt a guy.

First, Pittsburgh's slump-ridden first baseman helped destroy hamburger king Ray Kroc's San Diego Padres Wednesday night by driving in five runs with a pair of two-run homers and a single in the Pirates' 13-3 romp. And then he delivered the unkindest cut of all.

"For a while," he said. "I thought my wife and baby would have to start eating hamburgers."

Elsewhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers turned back the St. Louis Cardinals 5-2, the Cincinnati Reds edged the New York Mets 3-2 on Tony Perez' 10th-inning homer, the Atlanta Braves nipped the Philadelphia Phillies 1-0 in 11 innings, the Houston Astros downed the Montreal Expos 5-3 and the San Francisco Giants shaded the Chicago Cubs 5-4.

Robertson, who hit 27 home runs in 1970 and 26 in 1971, apparently is back to taking choice cuts—on the field and at the dinner table—after slumping to .193 and 12 homers in 1972 and .239 with 14 homers last season.

Dodgers 5, Cardinals 2

Ron Cey brought Los Angeles from behind with a three-run homer off Bob Gibson in the sixth inning and Bill Russell collected four hits, including an RBI single in the seventh. The Dodgers' Tommy John, 8-1, permitted seven hits before giving way to Mike Marshall in the seventh.

Reds 3, Mets 2

Tony Perez hit his ninth home run of the season with two-out in the 10th off reliever Harry Parker. It was the sixth win in a row for the Reds and the Mets' third straight loss.

Braves 1, Phillies 0

Pinch hitter Vic Correll, who had only two hits in 21 previous trips this season, singled home Ralph Garr from second base in the 11th inning against Steve Carlton.

Astros 5, Expos 3

Bob Watson delivered a tiebreaking two-run single with the bases loaded in the ninth inning after reliever Tom Walker walked Greg Gross and Cesar Cedeño with two out around a single by Roger Metzger. Gross tripled in the first two Houston runs and starting pitcher Claude Osteen singled home the third.

Giants 5, Cubs 4

The Giants scored four times in the first inning on Gary Thomasson's two-run double and Dave Rader's two-run single, but needed Bobby Bonds' homer in the seventh to beat Chicago.

Local Kegler 2nd In Heart Tourney

Bonnie Scheible of Circleville took second place honors in the Women's 140 and under division of the recent Southeastern Ohio Area Heartfund Rolloff Bowling Tournament.

The tournament was held for 19 southeastern Ohio counties at the Mt. Pleasant Lanes in Lancaster.

The ABC and WIBC sanctioned event was held for the benefit of the Central Ohio Heart Chapter. First place winners took home $25 and second place winners were awarded $15.

Piranhas Issue Last Member Call

Coaches of the Circleville "Piranha" Swim Team are issuing their last call for new recruits for the coming summer competition swim season.

"We need some new swimmers in a bad way," said Coaches Jim Shea and Dick Penn, "if we are to be in a position to capture the Mt. Pleasant Swim League title this year."

New rules of the league, passed last April, allow for three swimmers to swim for points in all individual events instead of two, and for two relay teams to swim for points in relay events instead of one.

"These new rules are putting all teams in the league on the spot," the coaches said, "and we are no exception."

Shortages on the Circleville team are: 9 Girls age 8 and under, 3 boys age 8 and under, 3 girls age 9-10, 3 boys age 9-10, 4 girls age 11-12, 2 boys age 11-12, 7 boys age 13-14, 2 girls age 15-17, and 2 boys age 15-17.

Anyone desiring to join the swim team are requested to attend a special meeting with one or both of their parents Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the shelter house at the Circleville Swimming Pool area.

Laughter Marks Bob Hope Birthday

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope, or Leslie Townes as he was born, helped celebrate his 71st birthday by recalling his childhood days in Cleveland when he helped his brother in a butcher shop. "I did everything," he said. "I plucked the chickens and ground the hamburger, and when things were slow, I posed in the window with an apple in my mouth."

The comedian said his brother used to be so proud of him he'd take out a full-page advertisement in a local paper any time he was playing Cleveland. "But now he just hangs a ham in the window," Hope wisecracked.

Hope was back home for his birthday, and amidst balloons and ballyhoo Wednesday he drew verbal bouquets for providing three decades of entertainment.

He also got a kiss from his wife, a telegram from President Nixon, a gold medallion — and a standing ovation from the 740 fans who paid $100 a plate to honor him.

Proceeds went to the United Service Organizations, the USO from which he made so many tours to bring laughs to servicemen.

There were tongue-in-cheek remembrances, such as the gold-inlaid personal pool cue presented to "Ace Hope" by armed services representatives "as a reminder of how you spent your childhood in Cleveland."

When the officers also gave him a set of pool balls, Hope's response was: "Admiral—no chalk?"

Later he told the laughing audience he spent so much time hanging out in the Alhambra pool hall, "I had to chalk my fingers before I could pick up a fork."

There was a telegram from Dorothy Lamour, with whom Hope starred in a number of movies, calling him "the alltime male sex symbol of the silver screen."

Hope, quick with the oneliners for which he is famous, couldn't resist the Watergate scandal.

"Watergate is giving dirty politics a bad name," he quipped.

Hope said he felt sorry for Nixon, continuing, "The President called Dial-A-Prayer the other day and they hung up on him."

Hope then turned serious.

"I'll always be proud of this President for just bringing the guys home from Vietnam," he said. The remark drew strong applause.

Funds Released For Great Seal Park Purchase

State Rep. Myrl H. Shoemaker has announced the release of $14,950 by the State Controlling Board for the purchase of land for Great Seal State Park.

"The State of Ohio has already acquired over 600 acres to be used as a park area encompassing the hills which inspired the Great Seal of Ohio plaque," Shoemaker said. "When completed, the park will cover about 1400 acres."

The $14,950 released by the Controlling Board will purchase 20-1/4 acres in Springfield Township, Ross County. Half of the purchase price will be reimbursed to the state by the federal government under the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation Program.

Rustic campsites, picnic areas, horse-back riding, hiking, and fishing, will all be available at the park when it is completed, Shoemaker said.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

People who write their own wills often have a weakness for flowery phrases. Unfortunately, literary style does not count in the interpretation of legal documents. Take the case of a well meaning widow who left "all my worldly possessions" to a beloved friend.

Clearly, this included her personal belongings. But did it also include a sizeable piece of real estate that she owned?

Several relatives turned up in court, insisting they were entitled to the realty. After years of litigation, the beloved friend lost out. The court said that, as nearly as it could figure out from the context, the widow had not intended the dispute language to cover real estate.

In another homemade will case, the phrase "personal things" proved to be a stumbling block. A woman left "my jewelry and other personal things" to her two sisters.

But a brother promptly laid claim to her stocks, bonds, and cash, which he said were not "personal things." However, there was evidence that the woman had often spoken of the securities and the money as her "things." Accordingly, the court decided they were all included in the bequest to the sisters.

Even the plainest of words can turn out to be ambiguous when put under close scrutiny by rival claimants to an estate. Major court battles have been waged over the meaning of "house," "farm," and "barn," not to mention "if," "and," "or," "to," and even "et cetera."

True, homemade wills sometimes do work out satisfactorily. But generally speaking, disposing of an estate is no job for an amateur. The person who writes his own will won't be available when it goes into effect, to explain what he meant. Too often that becomes the business of the courts.

Local Builder Attends NAHB Board Meeting

The National Association of Home Builders held their Spring Board Meeting in Washington, D.C., with J. Boyd Stout attending as a National Director representing The South Central Ohio Home Builders Association.

On Monday evening, the annual Congressional Banquet was held in the Washington Hilton Ballroom, with some 2,000 members of Congress, Government Leaders and Builders in attendance. Congressman and Mrs. William Harsha were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stout at the affair.

While in Washington, Stout also attended meetings of The National Housing Center Board of Trustees to which he was recently appointed to a three year term. The Board is composed of 10 National Builders and 10 Executives of National Industry, meeting at intervals to promote the development of materials and methods, and to cooperate, along with government agencies, to improve the Nation's Housing Industry.

The next meeting of the Board is scheduled for late summer, in San Francisco.

State Solon Fights Legion Auxiliary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The renewed controversy over the American Legion Auxiliary's policy of barring handicapped girls from participation in Girls State has reached the Capitol.

State Sen. Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, said Wednesday he will offer a resolution in the General Assembly to prohibit public schools from allowing students to participate in programs that discriminate against the handicapped.

Officials at individual high schools select the teen-age girls who take part in the week-long "democracy in action" program, which this year will be held June 15-23 at Capital University in Columbus.

Meshel said the organization's policy of restricting participation to only those girls who can perform required tasks without help is discriminatory. The auxiliary's rule came to light in 1971 when a Columbus girl was denied permission to attend Girls State that year because she was blind.

The controversy was stirred up again last week when a Columbus school teacher, who is handicapped, asked the city Board of Education to request the auxiliary to drop the prohibition.

Mrs. Lester Merritt of Columbus,

director of Girls State, said there were no plans to change the rule. She said it was necessary because handicapped girls would not be able to keep up with other girls in the mock government program.

Then Middletown Police Chief James Howerton, an American Legion member, announced Tuesday he had mailed in his membership card and had written a letter to Legion National Commander Robert E. L. Eaton of Indianapolis, Ind., protesting the policy.

Howerton reminded Eaton in the letter that "many of our own are handicapped because they believed

Crime Cash Given Montgomery

WASHINGTON (AP)—Law enforcement authorities in Montgomery County will get two federal grants totaling nearly $230,000 to fight violent crimes, the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration says.

One grant, for $117,495, will help authorities gather information on violent crimes and catch offenders, while the other, for $112,134, will be used to give defendants in criminal cases a chance to prove their desire to adjust to society, the LEAA said.

strongly enough in our form of government..."

Meshel suggested that state and local school officials publicly oppose the policy to pressure the auxiliary into changing its position.

A trail camping quiz and pamphlets were given to over 200 participants.

Scouts participating in the two-day event were: Tom Schroeder, Senior Patrol Leader; Dave Spain, Jeff Haist, Leadership Corps. Members; Phillip Dennison, Tim Woods, Greg Woods, Mark Lundberg and Mike Lundberg, younger scouts.

Walt Woods and Ron Lundberg furnished the adult supervision for this period.

Laughter Marks Bob Hope Birthday

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope, or Leslie Townes as he was born, helped celebrate his 71st birthday by recalling his childhood days in Cleveland when he helped his brother in a butcher shop. I did everything," he said. "I plucked the chickens and ground the hamburger, and when things were slow, I posed in the window with an apple in my mouth."

The comedian said his brother used to be so proud of him he'd take out a full-page advertisement in a local paper any time he was playing Cleveland. "But now he just hangs a ham in the window," Hope wisecracked.

Hope was back home for his birthday, and amidst balloons and ballyhoo Wednesday he drew verbal bouquets for providing three decades of entertainment.

He also got a kiss from his wife, a

B-52 Crashes At Wright-Pat

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Seven crewmen escaped serious injury when their B-52 crashed while landing at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base early today, a base spokesman said.

The plane, attached to the 17th Bomb Wing at the base, was returning from a seven and one-half hour training mission when the crash occurred shortly after 2 a.m., according to the Air Force.

Authorities said there was no damage to base facilities.

No further details were available.

People who write their own wills often have a weakness for flowery phrases. Unfortunately, literary style does not count in the interpretation of legal documents. Take the case of a well meaning widow who left "all my worldly possessions" to a beloved friend.

Clearly, this included her personal belongings. But did it also include a sizeable piece of real estate that she owned?

Several relatives turned up in court, insisting they were entitled to the realty. After years of litigation, the beloved friend lost out. The court said that, as nearly as it could figure out from the context, the widow had not intended the dispute language to cover real estate.

In another homemade will case, the phrase "personal things" proved to be a stumbling block. A woman left "my jewelry and other personal things" to her two sisters.

But a brother promptly laid claim to her stocks, bonds, and cash, which he said were not "personal things." However, there was evidence that the woman had often spoken of the securities and the money as her "things." Accordingly, the court decided they were all included in the bequest to the sisters.

Even the plainest of words can turn out to be ambiguous when put under close scrutiny by rival claimants to an estate. Major court battles have been waged over the meaning of "house," "farm," and "barn," not to mention "if," "and," "or," "to," and even "et cetera."

True, homemade wills sometimes do work out satisfactorily. But generally speaking, disposing of an estate is no job for an amateur. The person who writes his own will won't be available when it goes into effect, to explain what he meant. Too often that becomes the business of the courts.

Local Builder Attends NAHB Board Meeting

The National Association of Home Builders held their Spring Board Meeting in Washington, D.C., with J. Boyd Stout attending as a National Director representing The South Central Ohio Home Builders Association.

On Monday evening, the annual Congressional Banquet was held in the Washington Hilton Ballroom, with some 2,000 members of Congress, Government Leaders and Builders in attendance. Congressman and Mrs. William Harsha were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stout at the affair.

While in Washington, Stout also attended meetings of The National Housing Center Board of Trustees to which he was recently appointed to a three year term. The Board is composed of 10 National Builders and 10 Executives of National Industry, meeting at intervals to promote the development of materials and methods, and to cooperate, along with government agencies, to improve the Nation's Housing Industry.

The next meeting of the Board is scheduled for late summer, in San Francisco.

State Solon Fights Legion Auxiliary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The renewed controversy over the American Legion Auxiliary's policy of barring handicapped girls from participation in Girls State has reached the Capitol.

State Sen. Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, said Wednesday he will offer a resolution in the General Assembly to prohibit public schools from allowing students to participate in programs that discriminate against the handicapped.

Officials at individual high schools select the teen-age girls who take part in the week-long "democracy in action" program, which this year will be held June 15-23 at Capital University in Columbus.

Meshel said the organization's policy of restricting participation to only those girls who can perform required tasks without help is discriminatory. The auxiliary's rule came to light in 1971 when a Columbus girl was denied permission to attend Girls State that year because she was blind.

The controversy was stirred up again last week when a Columbus school teacher, who is handicapped, asked the city Board of Education to request the auxiliary to drop the prohibition.

Mrs. Lester Merritt of Columbus,

director of Girls State, said there were no plans to change the rule. She said it was necessary because handicapped girls would not be able to keep up with other girls in the mock government program.

Then Middletown Police Chief James Howerton, an American Legion member, announced Tuesday he had mailed in his membership card and had written a letter to Legion National Commander Robert E. L. Eaton of Indianapolis, Ind., protesting the policy.

Howerton reminded Eaton in the letter that "many of our own are handicapped because they believed

Crime Cash Given Montgomery

WASHINGTON (AP)—Law enforcement authorities in Montgomery County will get two federal grants totaling nearly $230,000 to fight violent crimes, the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration says.

One grant, for $117,495, will help authorities gather information on violent crimes and catch offenders, while the other, for $112,134, will be used to give defendants in criminal cases a chance to prove their desire to adjust to society, the LEAA said.

strongly enough in our form of government..."

Meshel suggested that state and local school officials publicly oppose the policy to pressure the auxiliary into changing its position.

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Which will you settle for - a beautiful picture book with a minute amount of current information - or an informative book with just the facts? Answer - neither one! The children's room has an excellent selection of outstanding books which are readable and scientific. Many have been certified as excellent by educators.

Animal books are among the most popular nature books in the library. "Water Monsters" contains drawings and photos of grotesque creatures of the sea. A walk to the pond near Circleville rewards its visitors with the sight of a dragonfly nymph, a fierce waterbug or a graceful water boatman. Yes, the common little insects qualify as monsters when viewed close up. They may be tiny but they eat hundreds of smaller insects every day.

Near by, too, lives the toad whose daily problems are dramatized in "Bufo" an easy reader by Robert McClung. Did you know that toads shed their skin as do snakes? This time of year little tadpoles are hatching and a wonderful opportunity exists to observe such a creature. Doesn't that sound like an interesting summer project?

"Fleas", disgusting as they may be to us, are worth knowing about, if only for protection. Chiggers, a type of flea, are annoying to us in the summer. The text describes why they like to burrow under our skin.

The author of "Spider World", Penelope Naylor studied sculpture at Smith College. Her beautiful drawings show them hunting, weaving webs and courting. For a fifth or sixth grader who wants to delve deeply into this hairy subject, this book is tops.

Raccoons are beautifully illustrated in color in a book for the beginning reader by Bernice Kohn. The possibilities of having one of these curious creatures for a pet is discussed with suitable warnings.

And for children who might be visiting other areas this summer, a book on wild animals might be interesting. In "Wonders of Alligators and Crocodiles" there is scientific data enough to merit its place on "Outstanding Trade Books for Children, 1973" list. But, best of all are the photos of a toddler stroking an overturned gator. This should shame those timid parents out there.

Planning to go west? "Look at the Desert Animals" has color shots of heat loving animals in their native habitat. Would you believe that a desert tortoise only requires a drink of water twice a year!

Please take home "Samson, Last of the California Grizzlies" First, it is an exciting adventure story. More importantly, it tells of the cruel hunting of grizzlies for sport which has led to their extermination in the state of California. Children will love the suspense and, hopefully, the message will leave its impact.

NAACP Sues Cincy Schools

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Ohio's laws permitting creation of suburban school districts and allowing big city districts to draw lines defining boundaries for neighborhood schools is under attack in a suit filed in U.S. District Court.

A suit filed Wednesday by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, on behalf of a dozen each white and black children, seeks to force total integration not only by race in the 73,000-pupil district but also by economic backgrounds.

The suit names not only the Cincinnati Board of Education and administrators, but Ohio Gov. John J. Gilligan, Ohio Atty. Gen. William Brown and the Ohio Board of Education.

The petition did not offer much evidence civil rights attorneys indicated would be introduced in court.

It alleged that the state officials, through "their actions and inaction," have permitted and supported school segregation in Cincinnati. This was accomplished through creation of 22 predominately white districts in Hamilton County, the NAACP indicated.

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — The National Merit Scholarship Corp. has announced the awarding of scholarships to universities in Texas and Michigan to two Ohio high school seniors. John A. Licking Home Rapped

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Public Welfare Department and its licensing chief have ordered the Licking County Children's Home to meet state standards in four weeks or close down.

Sanford Baumgardner, chief of licensing and standards, said Wednesday the state has "serious questions" about the availability of special psychiatric, psychological and education services, recreation and supervision at the home.

A renewal license was denied last June, and Baumgardner said a recent 25-page report by County Judge Virginia Weise helped focus local attention on conditions.

In two local hearings this month, personnel have been dismissed under allegations of excessive corporal punishment, drug or alcohol abuse or personal misconduct.

Baumgardner says the state also has some questions about a farm operated by the home. Some 57 children are sheltered there, with what the state said is "indiscriminate" grouping of boys and girls of all ages, "normal, sick and disturbed."

Baumgardner Wednesday requested an immediate end to admissions.

At Newark, Licking County Commissioner Donald Hill said a citizens task force had been appointed to study the situation at the home and the entire children's services program.

He said he does not expect the county to respond to Baumgardner's request until after the task force's recommendations are received.

Hill called the home an "oldtime children's home operation and not conducive to modern times," and conceded "we have some problem areas."

New Bishop Installed

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Albert Ottenweller, was ordained Wednesday as the first auxiliary bishop in the Roman Catholic Diocese of Toledo.

He had served as parish priest at Delphos for 22 years.

Diocesan Bishop John Donovan told the 1,600-member congregation attending the Ordination Mass that the Rev. Ottenweller was elevated in the clergy not by rank "but by his duty to serve."

Some 18 bishops participated in the ceremony.

The new Bishop was educated at Catholic University in Washington, D.C.

He admonished the congregation to "say yes to the future, taking a risk for God."

Picketing Curbed In Pike County

PIKETON, Ohio (AP) — A hearing has been scheduled Monday in Pike County Common Pleas Court on a request to limit picketing at the atomic energy plant near here.

Judge James M. Drennen issued a temporary restraining order Tuesday after the Goodyear Atomic Corp., which operates the plant, complained pickets were keeping supervisors and nonstrikers from entering.

About 875 members of Local 3-689 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union walked off the job May 2 in a contract dispute.

3 Policemen Hurt In Cleveland Shootout

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Three policemen were wounded, one critically, during an 80-minute gun battle with robbery suspects in suburban East Cleveland.

Police said three men were arrested after a force of more than 100 policemen had surrounded a home and fired bullets and tear gas into the building. Two persons, identified as residents of the home, also were wounded.

Two men in the home, using Muslim names, told a Cleveland radio station during the seige that they were holding seven hostages.

One man told the station, "We're dying as warriors...we're fighting the police. We're taking as many with us as we can."

Police said the shootings broke out during a speech for three men wanted for an earlier robbery at the East Cleveland home of Andrew Jackson.

Police said the incident began when the three forced Jackson 39, to accompany them to his home. Jackson escaped, but Mrs. Jackson said the three tied up several persons at the home and were in the process of looting the house when police arrived.

The men escaped, but police later traced them to the home of William O'Brien several blocks away, where the shootout occurred.

East Cleveland and Cleveland police, wearing bullet-proof vests and carrying automatic weapons, converged on the O'Brien home, and the shooting began, authorities said.

Authorities identified the wounded as Cleveland Patrolman Gerald Schetter, 31, who was listed in critical condition early today at Huron Road Hospital.

Cleveland Patrolman William Brenek, 45, was reported in fair condition with a back wound. East Cleveland Patrolman Keith Reider, 31, was listed in fair condition with an arm wound. A fourth patrolman suffered a knee injury.

Police identified the two men injured

Hospital Care

Cost May Rise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The general public will have to pay more for hospital care if the state doesn't pick up more of the tab for its welfare patients, the Ohio Hospital Association has warned.

The OHA, in a statement issued Wednesday, urged Gov. John Gilligan to set aside more money for such care. The association said it could come from his $43.5 million supplemental appropriations bill now before the legislature.

"Such services are seriously underfinanced by the state in proportion to the actual costs of such care," said the OHA.

Governor Proclaims Fraternal Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan Wednesday proclaimed the week of June 8-14 as Fraternal Week in Ohio and urged citizens to participate in special programs planned by fraternal societies.

Observances will stress National Flag Day, June 14, and Gilligan called upon Ohioans to display the flag.

Set Scholarships To 2 Ohio Youths

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — The National Merit Scholarship Corp. has announced the awarding of scholarships to universities in Texas and Michigan to two Ohio high school seniors. John A. Crabill of Beavercreek High School in Xenia will get the $6,000 Michigan State University Scholarship while the George R. Brown-Rice University Merit Scholarship for the same amount will go to Morris V. Johnson Jr. of Mayfield High School in Cleveland, it was announced.

Licking Home Rapped

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Public Welfare Department and its licensing chief have ordered the Licking County Children's Home to meet state standards in four weeks or close down.

Sanford Baumgardner, chief of licensing and standards, said Wednesday the state has "serious questions" about the availability of special psychiatric, psychological and education services, recreation and supervision at the home.

A renewal license was denied last June, and Baumgardner said a recent 25-page report by County Judge Virginia Weise helped focus local attention on conditions.

In two local hearings this month, personnel have been dismissed under allegations of excessive corporal punishment, drug or alcohol abuse or personal misconduct.

Baumgardner says the state also has some questions about a farm operated by the home. Some 57 children are sheltered there, with what the state said is "indiscriminate" grouping of boys and girls of all ages, "normal, sick and disturbed."

Baumgardner Wednesday requested an immediate end to admissions.

At Newark, Licking County Commissioner Donald Hill said a citizens task force had been appointed to study the situation at the home and the entire children's services program.

He said he does not expect the county to respond to Baumgardner's request until after the task force's recommendations are received.

Hill called the home an "oldtime children's home operation and not conducive to modern times," and conceded "we have some problem areas."

New Bishop Installed

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Albert Ottenweller, was ordained Wednesday as the first auxiliary bishop in the Roman Catholic Diocese of Toledo.

He had served as parish priest at Delphos for 22 years.

Diocesan Bishop John Donovan told the 1,600-member congregation attending the Ordination Mass that the Rev. Ottenweller was elevated in the clergy not by rank "but by his duty to serve."

Some 18 bishops participated in the ceremony.

The new Bishop was educated at Catholic University in Washington, D.C.

He admonished the congregation to "say yes to the future, taking a risk for God."

Picketing Curbed In Pike County

PIKETON, Ohio (AP) — A hearing has been scheduled Monday in Pike County Common Pleas Court on a request to limit picketing at the atomic energy plant near here.

Judge James M. Drennen issued a temporary restraining order Tuesday after the Goodyear Atomic Corp., which operates the plant, complained pickets were keeping supervisors and nonstrikers from entering.

About 875 members of Local 3-689 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union walked off the job May 2 in a contract dispute.

3 Policemen Hurt In Cleveland Shootout

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Three policemen were wounded, one critically, during an 80-minute gun battle with robbery suspects in suburban East Cleveland.

Police said three men were arrested after a force of more than 100 policemen had surrounded a home and fired bullets and tear gas into the building. Two persons, identified as residents of the home, also were wounded.

Two men in the home, using Muslim names, told a Cleveland radio station during the seige that they were holding seven hostages.

One man told the station, "We're dying as warriors...we're fighting the police. We're taking as many with us as we can."

Police said the shootings broke out during a speech for three men wanted for an earlier robbery at the East Cleveland home of Andrew Jackson.

Police said the incident began when the three forced Jackson 39, to accompany them to his home. Jackson escaped, but Mrs. Jackson said the three tied up several persons at the home and were in the process of looting the house when police arrived.

The men escaped, but police later traced them to the home of William O'Brien several blocks away, where the shootout occurred.

East Cleveland and Cleveland police, wearing bullet-proof vests and carrying automatic weapons, converged on the O'Brien home, and the shooting began, authorities said.

Authorities identified the wounded as Cleveland Patrolman Gerald Schetterer, 31, who was listed in critical condition early today at Huron Road Hospital.

Cleveland Patrolman William Brenek, 45, was reported in fair condition with a back wound. East Cleveland Patrolman Keith Reider, 31, was listed in fair condition with an arm wound. A fourth patrolman suffered a knee injury.

Police identified the two men injured

Hospital Care Cost May Rise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The general public will have to pay more for hospital care if the state doesn't pick up more of the tab for its welfare patients, the Ohio Hospital Association has warned.

The OHA, in a statement issued Wednesday, urged Gov. John Gilligan to set aside more money for such care. The association said it could come from his $43.5 million supplemental appropriations bill now before the legislature.

"Such services are seriously underfinanced by the state in proportion to the actual costs of such care," said the OHA.

Governor Proclaims Fraternal Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan Wednesday proclaimed the week of June 8-14 as Fraternal Week in Ohio and urged citizens to participate in special programs planned by fraternal societies.

Observances will stress National Flag Day, June 14, and Gilligan called upon Ohioans to display the flag.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Travel under especially beneficial influences. In fact, some exciting circumstances attending a short trip should give you a big lift.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Care needed in routine activities. Make no drastic changes arbitrarily, and be especially careful about details. There's a tendency to let the mind wander when it shouldn't.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Don't be discouraged if your efforts seem unappreciated. Instead, draw attention to them—but in a subtle manner.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): An excellent day for dealing with superiors, for making them aware of your ultimate goals and expressing your willingness to take on more responsibilities.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Rule out extremes and risky chance-taking. It is sometimes difficult for the Leoite to stress conservatism, but it's a MUST during this somewhat misleading period.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Take a second look before accepting new ideas or unusual propositions. Don't waste time and energy pursuing a will o' the wisp. Be especially careful about financial involvements.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Planetary influences somewhat mixed. Be constructive in planning, tenacious in implementing. System with flexibility needed.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Perceptiveness, reflexes and business acumen should be kept now. Especially favored under day's influences: merchandising, property transactions and financial negotiations.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Keep alert. Generous influences offer new routes and means for attaining better-than-average gains. Don't miss out!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): A good day in which to capitalize on your ingenuity and all-around competence. Properly exercised, even your most minor talents and efforts will be appreciated.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): In the tight spots, patiently wait out those things which call for more thought and delaying tactics. Avoid impulsiveness, at all costs.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20):

20): Some misleading influences prevail, so be careful of your involvements—with people OR situations. Avoid anxiety or undue suspicion, however.

YOU BORN TODAY have been endowed with a high order of intelligence; are extremely ambitious, creatively inclined and unusually dexterous with your hands; could reach top-level attainment in professions where you can combine your mental and physical ability. You are original in your ideas, but can carry out those of others with great facility, even improving on them as you go along. With your keen perception, you quickly analyze the most complex of situations and your lively imagination helps you in straightening them out. You could excel at writing in any form or in the theater; at any occupation in travel or dealing with the public—or a combination of both. Music as an avocation would make an admirable outlet for your emotions. Try to curb tendencies toward restlessness and extravagance. Birthdate of Walt Whitman, renowned poet; Pope Pius XI; Joe Namath, illustrious football player.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — One would think that the kid TV series called "Zoom," having won its second Emmy award in two years, would be on Easy Street now. But one would be very wrong, says David Ives.

He's president of Boston's WGBH, the station that has produced "Zoom" since January 1971, and he says he's worried whether the series will survive public TV's version of the auction block.

"This is one of those odd stories in the whole Emmy business," he says. "Some people have said the Emmy award is the kiss of death. I just hope to God it isn't this time."

The source of his concern is the Public Broadcasting Service's new national program cooperative, in which stations are now asked to pay a percentage of some national shows they once got gratis.

"Zoom" is one of those shows. It's getting no federal funds next season from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. CPB says it no longer will finance public TV series beyond two years.

Under the new cooperative plan, now undergoing a series of initial price rounds, the final per-station price of each show involved rises or falls, depending on the number of stations willing to pay.

What worries Ives is that many stations may decide the "Zoom" price is too high and drop out of the early bidding, thereby increasing the tab for those still interested.

And those stations in turn may subsequently decide the new price is too high and that they'd rather put their money into series that'll offer them more programs next season than "Zoom" will.

"And if the price is roughly the same," Ives says, "there's going to be a tendency—and it's showing up already—for the stations to want more programming for the dollars they put up."

"So that's the ironic situation," says Ives. "Here is 'Zoom,' winning its second Emmy in a row against the best competition the commercial boys could put up, then facing this situation."

"The economics of public broadcasting this year are raising some questions about whether it's going to make it or not. And it's got us worried at the moment."

The series, one of seven children's shows offered by the cooperative, isn't cheap. The tab is more than $1.4 million for 32 new half-hour shows for next season.

Fast Tudor Winner

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Give Freely and Sorta Like, carrying 119 pounds each, are favored today in the $3,000 featured eighth race at River Downs. The claiming price is $2,100.

Fast Tudor slogged ahead on a sloppy track Wednesday to win the feature by four lengths and paid $6.20, $4.40 and $3.20. Wandering Gail placed, $5.20 and $3.80 and Cracked Reason, third, $3.20.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — One would think that the kid TV series called "Zoom," having won its second Emmy award in two years, would be on Easy Street now. But one would be very wrong, says David Ives.

He's president of Boston's WGBH, the station that has produced "Zoom" since January 1971, and he says he's worried whether the series will survive public TV's version of the auction block.

"This is one of those odd stories in the whole Emmy business," he says. "Some people have said the Emmy award is the kiss of death. I just hope to God it isn't this time."

The source of his concern is the Public Broadcasting Service's new national program cooperative, in which stations are now asked to pay a percentage of some national shows they once got gratis.

"Zoom" is one of those shows. It's getting no federal funds next season from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. CPB says it no longer will finance public TV series beyond two years.

Under the new cooperative plan, now undergoing a series of initial price rounds, the final per-station price of each show involved rises or falls, depending on the number of stations willing to pay.

What worries Ives is that many stations may decide the "Zoom" price is too high and drop out of the early bidding, thereby increasing the tab for those still interested.

Remembrance is a Golden Chain
Death tries to break, but is all in

But this they wipe out never.
Is the memory of those Happy Days.

WHAT IS A HOME?

A roof to keep out the rain. Four walls to keep out the wind. Floors to keep out the cold. Yes, but home is more than that. . . .

A home is an investment, one providing all of us the opportunity to keep pace with inflation. Government figures now indicate the current annual inflation rate to be over 11%. If that were to continue, and if housing costs rise by a similar factor, today's $40,000. house will cost $67,402. 32 in five years, or $49,284.00 in only two years. What effect would those prices have on your ability to invest in a home?

By the same token, an investment of 20% of the price of a $40,000. home, or $8,000., if inflation continues unabated, and housing costs do likewise, will grow $9,284. ($49,284. less purchase price of $40,000.), giving an equity after two years of $17,284., or a 116% increase in one's investment equity in only two years.

These figures are most certainly not to be taken as a prediction, but are intended only to illustrate the possible financial positions of a potential home owner acting now, rather than later. A lesser, or greater, change may result from a lower, or higher, inflation rate and rate of housing cost change.

The question is, assuming what we are repeatedly being told will be a continuing inflationary economy, can any of us really afford to wait?

In Memoriam

In loving memory of my parents,
Andrew J. and Matilda L. Valentine, sisters, brother in law, Charles and Georgia Brown, Mary Guthrie, brothers, Lawrence and Emanuel Valentine.
Remembrance is a Golden Chain.
Death tries to break, but is all in vain.
To have, To Love and then to part is the greatest sorrow of ones heart.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never.
Is the memory of those Happy Days.
When as a family we were all together.

18. Houses for Sale

WHAT IS A HOME?
A roof to keep out the rain. Four walls to keep out the wind. Floors to keep out the cold.
Yes, but home is more than that. . . .
A home is an investment, one providing all of us the opportunity to keep pace with inflation. Government figures now indicate the current annual inflation rate to be over 11%. If that were to continue, and if housing costs rise by a similar factor, today's $40,000 house will cost $67,402.32 in five years, or $49,284.00 in only two years. What effect would those prices have on your ability to invest in a home?
By the same token, an investment of 20% of the price of a $40,000. home, or $8,000., if inflation continues unabated, and housing costs do likewise, will grow $9,284. ($49,284.
less purchase price of $40,000.), giving an equity after two years of $17,284., or a 116% increase in one's investment equity in only two years.
These figures are most certainly not to be taken as a prediction, but are intended only to illustrate the possible financial positions of a potential home owner acting now, rather than later. A lesser, or greater, change may result from a lower, or higher, inflation rate and rate of housing cost change.
The question is, assuming what we are repeatedly being told will be a continuing inflationary economy, can any of us really afford to wait?

Brawl Marks Texas Win

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Texas Ranger Manager Billy Martin isn't looking forward to 10-cent beer night and bat night in Cleveland next week. Not after Wednesday night's "basebrawl" in which he was decked twice during an eighth inning free-swinging flurry as Texas downed the Indians 3-0 on Jackie Brown's three-hitter.

"They'll all be mad at me in Cleveland that's for sure," said Martin. "I'm not exactly looking forward to it."

The flurry of fists erupted in the eighth inning as Lenny Randle laid down a bunt and threw an elbow at Cleveland pitcher Milt Wilcox as Wilcox tried to field the ball.

Indian first baseman John Ellis promptly tackled Randle and both benches traded punches.

Martin was downed twice in a wrestling match with Budd Bell of the Indians. Steve Foucault and Ferguson Jenkins of the Rangers brought Cleveland Manager Ken Aspromonte down from behind and pinned him.

Ellis said "I don't think that was too professional of Randle to run at Wilcox. Nobody runs at one of our pitchers like that and gets away with it. For a while there was nine against 25."

River DownsLegal Fight*Continues

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Ohio Racing Commission's right to refuse a license to a race track operator if it feels the operator may not be solvent enough has been taken under advisement by Hamilton County Common Pleas Court Judge William S. Matthews.

Matthews earlier ordered the commission to issue a license to A.J. Andreoli, Akron, to operate River Downs Race Course for 110 days starting May 10 after it refused to Dec. 26, 1973.

Matthews, who issued an injunction when Andreoli appealed, heard oral arguments Wednesday.

Thomas Turk, representing the commission, argued that since Andreoli sold the track, his financial structure was more of a risk since he no longer possessed the real estate.

"This is a right, not a privilege" of the commission, Turk said.

Turk said the reputation of Ohio racing would suffer if River Downs failed financially and could not pay its bettors or its Ohio state taxes.

Matthews noted that the state collects its percentage of paramutuel bets at the end of each racing day and the bettors collect after each race.

Brawl Marks Texas Win

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Texas Ranger Manager Billy Martin isn't looking forward to 10-cent beer night and bat night in Cleveland next week.

Not after Wednesday night's "basebrawl" in which he was decked twice during an eighth inning free-swinging flurry as Texas downed the Indians 3-0 on Jackie Brown's three-hitter.

"They'll all be mad at me in Cleveland that's for sure," said Martin. "I'm not exactly looking forward to it."

The flurry of fists erupted in the eighth inning as Lenny Randle laid down a bunt and threw an elbow at Cleveland pitcher Milt Wilcox as Wilcox tried to field the ball.

Indian first baseman John Ellis promptly tackled Randle and both benches traded punches.

Martin was downed twice in a wrestling match with Budd Bell of the Indians. Steve Foucault and Ferguson Jenkins of the Rangers brought Cleveland Manager Ken Aspromonte down from behind and pinned him.

Ellis said "I don't think that was too professional of Randle to run at Wilcox. Nobody runs at one of our pitchers like that and gets away with it. For a while there was nine against 25."

River DownsLegal Fight*Continues

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Ohio Racing Commission's right to refuse a license to a race track operator if it feels the operator may not be solvent enough has been taken under advisement by Hamilton County Common Pleas Court Judge William S. Matthews.

Matthews earlier ordered the commission to issue a license to A.J. Andreoli, Akron, to operate River Downs Race Course for 110 days starting May 10 after it refused to Dec. 26, 1973.

Matthews, who issued an injunction when Andreoli appealed, heard oral arguments Wednesday.

Thomas Turk, representing the commission, argued that since Andreoli sold the track, his financial structure was more of a risk since he no longer possessed the real estate.

"This is a right, not a privilege" of the commission, Turk said.

Turk said the reputation of Ohio racing would suffer if River Downs failed financially and could not pay its bettors or its Ohio state taxes.

Matthews noted that the state collects its percentage of paramutuel bets at the end of each racing day and the bettors collect after each race.
